

NEGRO BURNS AT THE STAKE FOR OUTRAGE

Assault Committed on Mrs. McKee Is Fearfully Avenged by Texas Citizens.

WHILE BEING CONSUMED NEGRO ADMITS GUILT

Husband of Victim Applies the Match—Thousands Gather To Witness the Negro Suffering for His Crime—Many Women Present.

Longview, Tex., May 22.—The culmination of a mob hunt which has been in progress since last Saturday was reached today when Dudley Morgan, colored, who assaulted Mrs. McKee, wife of a Texas and Pacific foreman at Lansing, Tex., was burned at the stake. When it was learned that the negro had been captured and was being taken to Lansing for identification, the excitement of the people knew no bounds. By 11 o'clock this morning great throngs had gathered at the Lansing switch, and, looking over the ground, decided to make arrangements to burn the negro about a quarter of a mile away on the line of a county road. A better place could not have been selected for the convenience of the immense crowd which witnessed the burning, for it was an open place, smooth and covered with grass, hedged in with high trees, making an opening about 200 yards wide and 300 yards long. The trees were literally lined with people an hour before the negro arrived.

Just before 11 o'clock the train bringing the negro and his captors near where he was captured arrived in Marshall and was met there by a great throng of people.

Negro Identified by Victim. Many more boarded the train at Hallsville, and when it arrived at Lansing every available place on it was occupied. Waiting at Lansing was another large crowd from Longview and the surrounding country.

The negro was not taken from the train on the side which the crowd expected him to be, and when the engineer started to pull out several winchesters were leveled at him and others of the train crew. They were told if they moved the train an inch they would all be killed. The mistake was soon detected, and the train moved away. The prisoner was taken to the section house, which stands close to the track, and identified by Mrs. McKee and several negroes who worked on the section with Morgan. Mrs. McKee told them they had the right man, and the negro was escorted by about two hundred men, armed with winchesters, to the place of execution. As he was chained to the stake he said he desired to make a statement. The crowd surged around him, and those in charge tried in vain to make them stand back and keep quiet while the negro talked. The negro made a statement in which he implicated another negro named Franklin Heard, saying he (Heard) was to get part of the money which was to be stolen.

His Eyes Burned Out. Morgan confessed to having committed the crime, and after being securely chained to the stake or rail, with his hands and legs free, the members of the mob began to take turns from a fire already started and burn out his eyes. They then held the red hot and burning tinders to his neck, and, after burning his clothes off, to other parts of his body. The negro screamed in agony. He was tortured in a slow and painful manner, with the crowd clamoring continuously for a slow death, and the negro, writhing and groaning, begged piteously to be shot.

Mrs. McKee was brought to the scene in a carriage, accompanied by four other women, and an effort was made to get the carriage close enough for her to see the negro. The crowd was so dense, however, that it was impossible. Persons held each other on their shoulders, taking turn about looking at the awful sight. The negro's head finally dropped and the ties were piled around and over him. In half an hour only the trunk of the negro remained. As soon as the heat would permit, the crowd with long sticks began a gruesome search for relics. Parts of his skull and body were gathered up by some and carried away. As the fire died down the crowd took the two men who first caught the negro and held them up over their heads, while they held their winchesters in their hands and were photographed.

From the time the first match was applied to the negro's body until the dying embers alone were left, the crowd yelled and cheered for the men who had chased the negro.

Husband Applied Match. Section Foreman McKee, husband of the woman assaulted, applied the match to the faggots. Many women were present from the surrounding country, but owing to the great crush they had very little opportunity to see the negro until the heat forced the crowd to widen the circle and the flames leaped over him. The railroads brought crowds of people to Longview Junction, where they boarded the Texas and Pacific fast train, which does not ordinarily stop at Lansing. The engineer was forced, at the point of a winchester, to stop at the scene of the lynching, however, and the mob dispersed.

Crocker People Vote To Abolish the Finance Committee and To Have the Organization in Future Led by Three Men.

New York, May 22.—The executive committee of Tammany hall, composed of the assembly district leaders, met today and adopted two resolutions offered by Alderman T. P. Sullivan. The first resolution advised the general committee of Tammany hall to abolish the finance committee. This was adopted unanimously.

The second resolution suggested the appointment of a subcommittee of three, to consist of Charles F. Murphy, Daniel F. McMahon and Louis F. Haffen, to constitute an advisory committee, with power to act and to report from time to time to the executive committee. This resolution was opposed by John F. Carroll, who offered an amendment that the thirty-seven district leaders be constituted the leaders of Tammany hall. Mr. Carroll's amendment was defeated by a vote of 8 to 2. The resolution authorizing the advisory committee was then adopted. The district leaders who compose what is known as the "Crocker Old Guard," supported the proposed changes.

The new advisory committee elected Charles F. Murphy chairman, and Thomas F. Smith was appointed secretary. Mr. Smith was formerly Richard Crocker's secretary. It was announced that one or more of the members of the advisory committee would be at Tammany hall every day to transact the business hereafter attended to by the leader of the organization.

Weiss, Mr. Brown's successor, was installed.

Chicago, May 22.—The appellate court has affirmed the injunction granted by Judge Chelmin in January restraining the members of the International Association of Machinists from in any manner unlawfully hindering, obstructing or interfering with the business of a machinery manufacturer. The appellate court said:

"Workmen may use the streets and highways in a manner not inconsistent with public travel for the purpose of entreaty, inducement and peaceful persuasion in good faith, and a patrol picket may not necessarily imply force or threat of bodily harm, but to accomplish their purpose they must not overstep the bounds and use threats, abusive epithets or conduct of a menacing character. A number of men in such manner or with such a show of force as is calculated to intimidate a reasonable and prudent man, and to harm him by interfering with his right to restrain such unlawful conduct."

When President Samuel Spencer, of the Southern railway, was in that city. No details of the purchase are known here, but the positive announcement that the deal has been made comes from an official who is in a position to know.

The Atlantic, Valdosta and Western has 156 miles of road. The main line extends from Jacksonville to Valdosta, 110 miles, and branches and spurs make up the rest of the mileage. The company owns valuable terminals at Jacksonville, and it is said that these terminals are what tempted the Southern.

When President Spencer passed through Savannah on his way to Jacksonville last Sunday he said that his purpose in going to that city was the arrangement of the Southern's track rights over the Plant system when that line has been consolidated with the Atlantic Coast Line. That has been done, but there was a further purpose in his trip, and that was to see the executive officers of the Atlantic, Valdosta and Western and arrange terms for the purchase of that line. The executive officers of the Atlantic, Valdosta and Western are as follows: Walter Ferguson, Jr., New York, treasurer.

The road connects at Valdosta with the Georgia Southern and Florida, a line that has been controlled by the Southern railway for some years. There has been a rumor for some time that the Southern owned or was interested in the Atlantic, Valdosta and Western. Its purchase of the last named may be followed by the establishment of a service to Jacksonville via the Georgia Southern and Florida.

RECTORS HAVE NAMED FARLEY As Worthy Successor to Late Archbishop Corrigan.

New York, May 22.—The permanent rectors of the diocese of New York and the diocesan consultants met today at the archiepiscopal house to select the names of three prelates for submission to the pope, from whom may be chosen a successor to the late Archbishop Corrigan.

After the meeting The Herald will say tomorrow: By a unanimous vote the Right Rev. John M. Farley, auxiliary bishop of New York, was chosen dignissimus, or most worthy. Almost unanimously they chose the Right Rev. Monsignor Joseph F. Mooney as dignior.

creed revision, making changes in the confession of faith. This action, which was practically unanimous, was taken with little or no debate. The changes proposed will now go to the various presbyteries for ratification. When the report was presented last Friday a motion for its adoption was made at once, but the vote was deferred until today. As was to be expected, the prospect of an interesting debate on creed revision attracted a crowd which filled the galleries solidly, and when the doors of the ground floor were opened all the seats not reserved for commissioners were occupied at once.

Dr. Henry C. Minton, chairman of the revision committee, spoke for the report. "The misapprehension as to the confession," said Dr. Minton, "has come from two causes. First, the unguarded statements in the confession itself, and, second, unwarranted inferences from the confession. In the first cases verbal changes were the remedy. In the second, declaratory statements were necessary."

Dr. Minton then took up the various points on which the committee had been asked to pass. Regarding Pope of Rome. "Regarding the pope of Rome," he said, "the confession distinctly says the pope is the anti-Christ and the son of perdition. Now, if that was true, and if we want to say it, let it stand. If not true, or if true and we do not wish to say it, take it out."

"I may believe that the pope is anti-Christ on general principles. I am quite willing to declare in the face of the Vatican on the whole world, for that matter, that the pope, using the crown rights of Jesus Christ, is anti-Christ and the son of perdition. The committee followed the only proper course to pursue, by broadening the statement."

Dr. Minton resented the accusation brought that the Presbyterian church believed in infant damnation. "The critics and enemies of the Presbyterian church have rolled it under their tongues as a sweet morsel that we believe in infant damnation. We resent the accusation that this chapter contemplates any such interpretation."

Dr. Minton was loudly applauded when he closed.

Rev. Dr. R. Russell Booth, of this city, who has been known as a strong and revisionist, asked the assembly to adopt unanimously and at once the report.

Revision Makes Him Weep. Rev. Fleming G. Hallen, of Kilmorie, Fla., opposed revision. "I am against the adoption of the report," he said, "I have never found any difficulty with the old standards. They have lighted the way for me and mine across the river, all the way. I feel that this revision is but the entering wedge, and how far it will go no one can tell." Here the speaker broke down and wept.

The question was then put and the resolution ordering the report published was carried, with only two dissenting votes. The motion for adoption of the supplementary statement was made by Dr. Minton and seconded by Rev. Dr. Howard and Duffield, of the Old First Presbyterian church, this city.

"We are face to face with a Babel and a Pentecost," said Dr. Duffield; "a Babel of confusion and a Pentecost where souls will be won and blessings gained. Which shall it be?"

Dr. Richard S. Holmes, of Pittsburg, said he represented the conservative element of the church. He said he had only voiced the sentiment of that element when he asked the assembly for the unanimous adoption of the supplementary report.

The entire report was adopted and the session was closed with an impressive devotional service.

TO REENTER VIRGINIA FIELD. The Southeastern Tariff Association Reaches This Decision.

Old Point Comfort, Va., May 22.—The Southeastern Tariff Association today decided to reenter the Virginia field, thus bringing the state in full accord with the association in the matter of rates.

This was the second day's session of the association and it was marked by spirited and at times exciting debate over the question of reentering the Old Dominion.

Major Randolph, of Richmond, contended that the people of the state did not want the association back, as it looked like a trust. Others took an opposite view, maintaining that the association was helpful to the state.

Dr. Denny and War Claim.

Nine members of the nineteen original signers of the minority report on the war claim issue presented a paper to the general conference, the substance of which was that they wished to exonerate Dr. Collins Denny of Virginia, of Virginia, and supported by Rev. Horace Bishop, of Texas. The Nelsons substitute prevailed and the old, time-honored rule was ordered followed.

The report of the committee on episcopacy passing the characters of all the bishops of the church was presented under a suspension of the rules. A second report from this committee saying Bishop Hendrix should not be censured for appointing a minister over the academy of the Pacific conference was adopted. The new Sunday school board was nominated and elected as follows:

John R. Pepper, of Memphis; W. E. Washburn, of Alabama; John O. Wilson, of South Carolina; B. M. Burgher, north Texas; M. Frank Walton, Baltimore.

The report of the federation committee on the proposition to reunite the northern and southern Methodist churches was read. It detailed carefully the work of the committee at its session in Baltimore, which was full of sentiment for harmonious relations between the two churches. No recommendations for the unification were made. The report provided for a joint hymnal and expressed the opinion that the southern and northern churches should work harmoniously together in their respective spheres. The report also favored

WICKED WAR, ASSERTS HOAR

Venerable Republican Attacks Policy of His Party in the Philippines.

MOST WICKED CHAPTER IN AMERICAN HISTORY

Responsibility for All the Horrors in the Islands Placed on the Administration—Wave of Applause Sweeps the Senate.

The new Cuban republic was erected. Mr. Hoar said the action of the United States regarding Cuba was worthy of our great nation, which in this instance had put aside greed and conquest and had erected a monument among the nations of the world.

Mr. Hoar maintained that this country is not at war.

"You are fighting for sovereignty," he said. "You are fighting for the principle of eternal dominion over that people, and that is the only question at issue in the conflict."

When it had been determined to resort to force in the Philippines, he said, the government took upon itself the natural consequences of that decision. The result of the conflict of arms of such a character inevitably was that there would be cruelty on one side and retaliation by the other, and the responsibility rested upon those who made the policy. He said that the share which it was proposed to give the Philippine in the proposed scheme of government was an admission that many of them were fit for self-government. The United States was fighting to secure a dependency, not a republic, a government of the Philippines.

Cuba and Philippines. Discussing the testimony taken by the Philippine committee, Mr. Hoar said it has contained some pregnant admissions. What vindictive that which has been done so far is the saving of the islands from anarchy and the material benefit conferred upon the Philippine people. What the fathers of the Republic said and our country of glorious history were appealed to in vain. His lessons fell upon the ears of men dazzled by military glory and delirious with the lust of conquest," he said. He compared the situation in Cuba with that in the Philippines, and demanded to know which was the better.

Mr. Hoar read a chapter of the history of this country, which, he said, showed that the present policy of the government was in contradiction of the Monroe doctrine, and it was a contradiction of the Declaration of Independence. He said that if the present way was followed the Declaration of Independence would be repealed and nothing would be left of the Monroe doctrine except the principle of brutal selfishness. This government had erected a republic in Cuba and a despotism in the Philippines. Six hundred millions of treasure had been left of the Monroe doctrine except the principle of brutal selfishness. This government had erected a republic in Cuba and a despotism in the Philippines. Six hundred millions of treasure had been left of the Monroe doctrine except the principle of brutal selfishness.

What have your islands cost you? Inquired Mr. Hoar. "For the Philippine islands you have had to repeal the Declaration of Independence. For Cuba you have had to reaffirm and give it new luster. For the Philippine islands you have had to convert the Monroe doctrine into a doctrine of mere selfishness. For Cuba you have acted on it, and vindicated it. In Cuba you have the eternal gratitude of a free people. In the Philippine islands you have the hatred and sullen submission of a subjugated people. From Cuba you have brought home nothing but glory. From the Philippines you have brought home nothing but glory."

Cruelties in Islands. Referring to the cruelties committed in the Philippines, Mr. Hoar said he believed the American soldiers were as brave and humane as ever lived. They had done simply what always would have been done in like conditions. The chief guilt was upon the heads of those who created the conditions.

Adverting to the "horrors" which have occurred in the Philippines, Mr. Hoar said: "I hope and believe they were unknown to the war department. I know they were unknown to President Roosevelt, and I know they were unknown to President McKinley."

He did not believe, however, that the statement that the war had been conducted with unexampled humanity on our part would be accepted by the people. He denounced the effort alleged to have been given by General Smith, and lay particular stress upon the horrors of the reconcentration camps which he likened to the dreadful scenes in Andersonville prison during the civil war.

Great Applause for Hoar. Mr. Hoar occupied nearly two hours and a half. At the conclusion of the address a wave of applause swept over the senate and the galleries. So unusual was the demonstration on the floor of the senate that the presiding officer (Mr. Platt, of Connecticut) called the senate's attention to the violation of its own rules, and in addition warned the people in the galleries that applause was not permissible.

"I want to call attention to the chair," suggested Mr. Bacon, of Georgia, "that the main applause occurred on the floor of the senate."

And on the democratic side, interrupted Mr. Foraker, of Ohio. At 2:30 o'clock the senate took a recess for thirty minutes in order that its members might partake of an Oregon salmon with a mixture of American ingenuity and Castilian cruelty."

GEORGIA ITEMS TO STAND

None Will Be Stricken From Public Buildings Bill.

FIGHT ON MACON INCREASE

Effort May Be Made To Strike It, but Bacon Hopes To Have It Retained.

Washington, May 22.—(Special.)—The indications are that all Georgia items in the public buildings bill will be retained with the possible exception of $300,000 for a new building at Macon. The increase for Athens and that for Rome will be agreed to by the house conferees without any semblance of objection.

The house committee had consented to an increase in the Macon item to $125,000, and the senate committee allowed an additional $30,000 for the purchase of additional land. The amendment increasing this amount to $200,000 was placed on the bill in open senate by Senator Fairbanks, chairman of the committee, on the request of Senator Bacon. This amendment is in the shape of the bill drawn by Judge Bartlett and introduced both by him and Senator Bacon early in the session. The expenditure is endorsed by the treasury department on the ground that it is better business for the government to spend $200,000 in building a new building at Macon than to spend nearly half that amount in making over the present structure. Both Senator Bacon and Judge Bartlett will make a hard fight to have the larger amount retained in the bill, and they have hopes of success. The bill as it passes the senate is comparatively small increase over the bill as passed by the house, and there is a fair chance of all the increases being retained in conference.

Banks all over the country held the company's paper, and forty of them filed claims today.

FRENCH GUESTS AT WHITE HOUSE

Members of the Rochambeau Mission Are Received by President Roosevelt.

STATE DINNER IS GIVEN IN HONOR OF FRENCHMEN

Members of the Mission Paid a Visit to Mount Vernon and Placed Wreaths on the Tomb of George Washington.

Washington, May 22.—Surrounded by the members of his cabinet and by officials high in all the branches of the government, President Roosevelt today received as the guests of the nation the distinguished Frenchmen sent by President Loubet to take part in the Rochambeau exercises.

The arrival in the city of the brilliantly uniformed army and navy officers of France and their escort through Pennsylvania avenue by a troop of United States cavalrymen gave picturesque interest to the occasion, and to this was added the international significance of an extremely cordial exchange of greetings between the representatives of the two nations. After the president's reception at the white house, the French visitors exchanged calls with members of the cabinet and Lieutenant General Miles and Admiral Dewey. This afternoon they went to Mount Vernon, where General Brugere, of the French army, placed a laurel wreath on the tomb of Washington, and Count de Rochambeau planted a tree taken from the battle ground of Yorktown. Tonight President Roosevelt had the French party as his guests at dinner at the white house.

At the white house the president's greeting was most cordial, and as the French ambassador presented each of the official guests the president gave him a warm grasp of the hand and spoke a few words of felicitous welcome. On both sides there were many expressions of international good will and of the lasting friendship between the two republics.

The affair was devoid of formality, however, and no formal addresses were delivered. The French and American ladies mingled together while the officials exchanged greetings, adding to the brightness and the happy informality of the occasion. The reception lasted about half an hour, when the French officials withdrew to make a round of calls on members of the cabinet, the general of the army and the admiral of the navy, and on the ambassadors of foreign countries.

At Mount Vernon the party proceeded first to the tomb of Washington, where the heavy iron bars were removed in order to admit Mr. Cambon, General Brugere, Vice Admiral Fournier and a few other distinguished officers. General Brugere placed the wreath on the tomb, which was completely covered by the great sheaves of laurel. Just across from the tomb a vigorous maple, taken from the Yorktown battle field, was planted by Count de Rochambeau. As he laid down the spade, General Brugere and all the other officials took turn in casting earth upon the new-planted tree. Later the French officials dined at the Rochambeau hotel.

A state dinner was given at the white house tonight by President and Mrs. Roosevelt in honor of the distinguished visitors from France, who are in this city in connection with the Rochambeau state ceremonies. The company invited to meet the visitors was a thoroughly representative one, including the members of the cabinet, senators and representatives in congress, and high officials of the army and navy.

During the dinner President Roosevelt proposed this toast: "To the president of the French republic and to the people of France."

Ambassador Cambon gave as a toast: "The president of the United States," and made a short, graceful and witty speech. The members of the Rochambeau mission.

General Brugere responded. An interesting event of the evening was a presentation to Mrs. Roosevelt of a rare collection of sketches and engravings, a gift from the French republic, which was presented by the French artist, M. Renouard.

MOTHER OF MANY CRIMINALS. Descendants of One Woman Cost the Nation $3,000,000.

New York, May 22.—Starting statistics on criminology have been presented at the annual convention of the New York county W. C. T. U. One of the delegates read a paper on the subject of "This family," the speaker continued, "has cost the nation $3,000,000 for trials and executions."

"Her descendants have been traced," continued the speaker. "They number 800. Seven hundred were criminals, having been convicted at least once."

"Thirty-seven were murderers, and were executed for their crimes."

"This family," the speaker continued, "has cost the nation $3,000,000 for trials and executions."

LYNCHERS WERE ON HIS TRAIL. Missouri Mob After Negro for Assault on Woman.

Carthage, Mo., May 22.—Will Jones, the Joplin negro accused of criminally assaulting Mrs. Parmeter, of Webb City, Mo., was taken from Webb City this afternoon by the sheriff and a strong force of deputies to prevent his being lynched. He was forced through the crowd, put in a carriage and driven to Carthage, where he was put in the county jail. Mrs. Parmeter called to identify the prisoner. Jones was lined up with two other colored prisoners in the jail, and the woman failed to recognize any one of the three as her assailant.

Later this evening two farmers who had seen him positively identified him as the one that ran from the woman and they approached in response to her cries. Two boys who saw him in the immediate vicinity before the crime, and who followed him as he ran, also identified him as Mrs. Parmeter's assailant. All danger of mob violence has passed. Mrs. Parmeter's failure to identify the negro alighted excitement for the time.

Bank Wreckers Are Arraigned. Detroit, Mich., May 22.—Frank C. Andrews and H. R. Andrews, vice president and cashier respectively of the wrecked City Savings bank, and who are charged with the collapse of that institution, were held for trial in the recorder's court on July 3 by Judge Whelan.

At the close of the preliminary examination today and a special session of the police court they were committed to bail in the sum of $50,000 each.

New Pastor at McRae. McRae, Ga., May 22.—(Special.)—Rev. S. W. Walker, pastor of the Methodist church here, left last week for Florida, to take charge of the Florida seminary. Rev. T. G. Long, from Florida, preached Sunday morning at the McRae church, and made a fine impression.

Boston Blue Law Is Dead. Boston, May 22.—The so-called "blue" law, which prohibited the sale of ice cream, soda water and confectionery on Sunday by druggists and common victuallers, was wiped off the statute books this afternoon by a repealing measure, which Governor Crane signed as he was rushed to him from the senate. The agitation growing out of the attempt to enforce the law a few Sundays ago led to the present legislation.

Occupied by Act of God. Almighty Directed the United States to the Philippines.

SO BISHOP THOBURN SAYS. He Also Believes That the United States Was Led to Cuba by God.

Washington, May 22.—Bishop Thoburn, of the Methodist Episcopal church of India and Malaya, was before the senate committee on Philippines today. He said the American occupation of the Philippines should be continued. In the course of his examination he said that the American occupation was an act of God. This led to quite a long line of questions by Senator Patterson, and the bishop will continue tomorrow.

Senator Beveridge objected, saying the questions were unnecessary, and Senator Patterson remarked that whenever the questions were such as to bring out evidence which the majority did not want, an excuse was made for objection. Chairman Lodge sustained the objection.

In response to questions from Senator Carmack, Bishop Thoburn expressed the opinion that the Philippine people are now better disposed toward American missionaries than they were at the close of the Spanish war. In proof of this statement he said that there is now an attendance of 12,000 people at the Methodist churches in Manila, and that both in that city and the outlying provinces it was almost impossible to meet the demand for teachers and preachers.

Asked for a statement as to the moral and intellectual capacity of the Philippine people, Bishop Thoburn replied: "In many respects they are like the American Indians. There is no coherence among them. They are divided into tribes and the biggest man among them is generally recognized as a sultan. They are bright and quick, but not profound, and I am afraid they are not capable of removing the present American restraints in the Philippines."

In response to questions by Senator Culberson, Bishop Thoburn said he believed the Philippines should have a protectorate after the manner of the British protectorates in Africa, and that both in that city and the outlying provinces it was almost impossible to meet the demand for teachers and preachers.

MADE TO VOW BY STRIKERS

That He Would Mine No Coal Until the Trouble Is Settled.

MINERS BEGIN TO MARCH IN ANTHRACITE REGION

They Are Headed by Drummers and Buglers—Rumors of a Settlement of the Strike Denied by Leaders.

Tamaqua, Pa., May 22.—Led by a drummer and a bugler, several hundred striking miners marched on the Smith-Meyers quarry today. A sentry posted in a tree fired his gun as a warning to the men at the quarry that the strikers were approaching. Operations were at once discontinued.

When the strikers were within 50 yards of the washeries they were met by Charles Meyers, one of the operators. Mr. Meyers appealed to them not to damage any property or to injure any property or to injure any of the men. He said that he would pledge his word that not a pound of coal would be washed until the strike had been settled. The marchers then appointed a committee to meet the employees and the latter promised not to work until an order to do so is issued by the United Mine Workers' officials. After the men had agreed to do this the marchers returned to town.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 22.—The tenth day of the anthracite coal miners' strike passed off very quietly, not a single incident developing which would in any way tend to change the present situation. Rumors were rife that something was about to take place that would alter the status quo of the negotiations, but these were promptly denied by leaders of both sides to the controversy. The action of the convention of the three district executive committees today no doubt had much to do with these rumors. The members of the committees spent the greater part of the time looking about strike headquarters, and absolutely nothing was done.

SIGNS OF PEACE ARE VERY GOOD

British Officers Hope for Favorable Action by Boers.

Cabinet Council Is Called for Today, and It Is Believed That Advice from Kitchener Will Be Discussed.

London, May 22.—The consensus of opinion here is that all the signs are propitious, but up to 2 o'clock this afternoon the British officials had given no indication of the course which the negotiations between Lord Kitchener and Lord Milner and the Boer delegates at Pretoria were taking.

That conferences are occurring regarding the basis upon which peace shall be declared is the sum total of the information which the war office has vouchsafed up to the present, though it is intimated that a definite announcement of the result, peaceful or otherwise, may be speedily expected.

The impression that peace is close at hand has obviously taken a strong hold of the operators on the stock exchange. The buying of consols and gilt-edged South African shares continues, it is believed, in behalf of well-informed interests.

A cabinet council has been summoned for tomorrow.

London, May 22.—The Daily Chronicle this morning claims authority to say that peace in South Africa is practically assured. This is also the general impression with the other newspapers and the public, although the former do not go so far as the assertion published by The Chronicle. At a late hour last night, however, the government departments declined to give any information on the matter.

It is understood that important dispatches were received yesterday from Lord Milner, the British high commissioner in South Africa, and from Lord Kitchener, but nothing can be ascertained as to the nature of the contents of the messages.

The fact that the cabinet was summoned so quickly after the arrival of the delegates at Pretoria is regarded as a good augury, as the discussions at Pretoria could only have commenced Monday. The cabinet will meet late this afternoon in order to enable the ministers, who were at a distance, to reach London in time for the meeting.

To Pardon All Americans.

Havana, May 22.—A bill will be introduced in the house of representatives providing pardon for all Americans confined in prison or awaiting trial. It is expected that the house will take favorable action in the matter. Cuban sentiment is strongly in favor of the measure.

Banquet to Palma.

Havana, May 22.—A grand civic procession occurred here this afternoon and the three days' festivities attendant upon the inauguration of the Cuban republic ended tonight with a banquet to President Palma, given by the municipal council of Havana.

BULL FIGHT MADE HER SICK

Mrs. Curry Was Badly Upset by Bloody Scene.

KING WANTS HORSE RACING

As a Substitute for Bull Fighting, He Says the Sport Is Cruel.

Madrid, May 22.—Dr. J. L. M. Curry and Mrs. Curry leave Madrid tonight for Paris, where Dr. Curry is to make a speech at the Rochambeau banquet on Saturday next. Dr. Curry is delighted with the treatment he received throughout his stay here.

Mrs. Curry was so upset by the scenes which she witnessed at the bull fight yesterday that she was unable to attend the tango yesterday evening, but she had previously had a farewell audience of the queen mother, and donated a thousand pesetas to the free education fund. The gift was highly appreciated in official circles.

The king yesterday evening, speaking to a foreign diplomat, asked him how he liked the bull fight. The diplomat was obliged to confess that it had made a disagreeable impression upon him. "It is cruel," replied the king, "and I do not like it much. I would like to introduce horse racing as a substitute."

GENTLEMAN FROM 'GEORGIA'

Succeeds in Causing a Sensation in City of Belfast.

London, May 22.—A great sensation has been caused in Belfast by the news that a fish monger named O'Rourke has inherited a fortune estimated at £20,000,000.

A mysterious gentleman from 'Georgia, U. S. A.' was the cause of the disturbance. He is said to have visited O'Rourke and stated that his mission was to trace the whereabouts of the heir or heirs to the fortune in question.

In 1868, according to the story, Page O'Rourke, a native of Drumahair, Waterford, died in Chicago, leaving a sum ranging up to $7,000,000 in addition to considerable properties which he owned. As usual in such affairs, the decedent left no will and O'Rourke is now busily engaged in collecting evidence of his relationship.

QUITED BY THE TOPEKA.

Presence of Warship Improves the Situation in Haiti.

Port-au-Prince, Haiti, May 22.—The United States cruiser Topeka arrived here today from Port Royal, S. C., to protect American interests. The presence of the war ship in these waters has had an excellent effect. The situation of affairs is improving. The northern army commander, General Firmin, has halted at Arcahaie, two days' march from here. General Firmin is said to have formally declared that he does not intend to enter Port-au-Prince at the head of his troops.

Neely Money Returned.

Washington, May 22.—Secretary Root today received from General Wood express package containing $5,234, being the money taken from C. F. W. Neely at the time of his arrest at Rochester, N. Y., in May, 1900, and sent by the postal authorities to General Wood, at Havana, to be used as evidence at the trial of Neely. The secretary directed that the money be sent to the postmaster general for such disposition as he deemed proper.

Blue Serge Suits

Lined, half-lined and unlined.

If you're an expert judge of serge you need not take anything for granted the salesman tells you. The warp and woof and the dye can not withhold its tricks if you know serge. But suppose you don't know serge and buy it trustingly? Better go to a safe store.

A man might choose a store indiscriminately and get a serge that would stand the sun and rain all right, but the chances are against him. Like David Harum's horse which the deacon bought, serge doesn't turn out always "like it ought."

We'd be willing to be judged on our serge suits alone. That's putting it strong, for we know serge to be one of the trickiest of fabrics. But the buyer who buys our serge suits knows his business.

Serge coats and vests, unlined, $5, $7 and $7.50.

Blue Serge Suits, new 4-button sack cut—$12.50, $15, $16.50, $18.50, $20, and $25.

SAHARA MADE OF THE ISLAND

Fearful Stories Told of the Desolation Wrought by Mont Pelee.

PEOPLE FLEW IN TERROR TO ESCAPE VOLCANIC RAIN

Refugees Are Flocking by Thousands Into Port de France—The French Government May Decide To Evacuate Island of Martinique.

Port de France, Island of Martinique, May 22.—The correspondent of the Associated Press has had an interview with M. Clerc, a member of the legislature of Martinique, who recently explored the vicinity of Mont Pelee. He said:

"I started Friday last for Mont Pelee, accompanied by such a large number of men, I reached a height of 4,500 meters with out difficulty and was able to ascertain that the present crater is about 300 meters in diameter. On the east it is overlooked by the Morne la Croix, the culminating point of the island, having an altitude of 1,350 meters, which is completely crumpled and mined at its base as a result of the volcanic action and might easily collapse."

The rim of the crater have very much changed in appearance and the heat there we stood was intense and the whole aspect of the mountain was terrifying. Stones fell around us, and we picked up large pieces of sulphur, which, however, we were unable to retain. The whole spot was charged with electricity, which became so violent that we were obliged to retreat.

"Our descent from the mountain was more difficult than our ascent. A blinding rain of ashes fell upon us and the engineer was nearly killed by a large stone which fell near him."

Rain of Ashes and Rocks.

The recent rains of ashes and volcanic rocks weighing as much as 15 grammes, which have fallen here, caused so much consternation among the inhabitants of Port de France that those who have not left the city are anxious to do so, and large numbers are emigrating to the island of Guadalupe, where, it is now estimated, 1,200 people from Martinique have already sought shelter.

During her last exploring trip about the island the French cruiser Suchet, which did not stop at St. Pierre, noticed that all the formerly cultivated land between Grande Riviere and Marigot has been completely destroyed. The inhabitants of these two towns have suffered and are still suffering a great deal, but they have not yet determined to abandon these localities.

M. Loubet, in reply, said he entertained no doubt of the cordiality of the Russian and popular reception. The railroad station and city were lavishly decorated, and men, women and children thronged the streets, waving tri-color flags and wearing Franco-Russian alliance souvenirs of all descriptions. The French president was met at the station by the mayor of St. Petersburg, who made him a customary bread and salt and heartily bade him welcome.

During the day President Loubet placed a wreath on the tomb of Czar Alexander III, subsequently visited the French colony, received a deputation from the French colony, visited the grand dukes, left cards at the various embassies, and gave 100,000 francs to the charities of St. Petersburg, Cronstadt and Pétrohof.

Considering the lack of emotion in the Russian chamber, President Loubet's reception during his visit to St. Petersburg today must be considered phenomenal. The police allowed the populace much greater liberty than is usual, and the crowds on the central portion of the Nevsky prospect were of unprecedented size.

May Desert Martinique.

Paris, May 22.—The minister of the colonies has cabled to Governor L'Héritier at Port de France to instruct him to make all possible arrangements for the embarkation of the inhabitants of Martinique in the event of circumstances necessitating the evacuation of that island.

Insane from Fright.

Paris, May 22.—A dispatch from Port de France, Martinique, published this morning in Le Journal says the sole idea of the inhabitants is flight; that many of them have become insane, and some of the people throw themselves into the sea. The population of the Grand Riviere district is isolated and assistance cannot reach them. In conclusion Le Journal's correspondent says there are vague rumors at Port de France of further disasters.

Perry, Okla., May 22.—Heavy rains today caused the creek running through Perry to overflow its banks. Several small houses along the banks of the stream were washed away before the occupants could escape. One woman, name unknown, is reported drowned. Several women and children were rescued from trees and house roofs. One family was saved by cutting through the roof. G. W. Cooper, a hotel proprietor, at the risk of his life, swam to a tree and rescued two women and a baby. George Ney, a cook, rescued the wife of a hotel proprietor from a house in midstream. One injured man was carried away and others are in sad shape. On the east side of the bridge and on East street the water ran into stores, damaging stock.

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 22.—The residence of Mr. Knox, 4 miles from Elk City, was destroyed. Mr. Knox and his son were carried about 100 yards, but escaped uninjured. The storm developed in the eastern part of Roger Mills county and traveling in a northeasterly direction destroyed everything in its track, which varied from 100 yards to one-half mile in width. The funnel-shaped clouds were seen to form and were in plain view for many minutes. The clouds finally separated, one going northwest and the other north, leaving Elk City untouched.

Toledo, Ohio, May 22.—A terrific electrical and wind storm passed over northwestern Ohio this afternoon. Two persons were killed, one fatally injured and many others less seriously injured. Much damage was done in the oil fields.

No details are obtainable, but it is known that the Grand Duke Sergius, governor general of Moscow, who had come to Tsarokoe to be present at the reception of President Loubet, left hurriedly for Moscow last night without waiting to participate in the military review. The imperial family has abandoned its intention of visiting Moscow.

Transfer House of New York Central Is Destroyed.

Central Is Destroyed.

Switchman Is Killed by the Falling Timbers—Some of the Cars Contained Oil and Exploded.

Impossible To Estimate Loss.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 22.—The transfer house of the Lake Shore and New York Central railroads, just north of the stock yards, caught fire at midnight. Within an hour the house was destroyed and about 200 cars had been burned.

William Lester, a switchman, was struck by falling timbers from a partially burned car and sustained injuries which resulted in his death before the arrival of an ambulance.

Superintendent Macbeth, who arrived on the scene some time after the fire started, said:

"It is impossible for any one to estimate the loss. The transfer house contained a large amount of merchandise and a great number of the cars contained oil. Every available engine was rushed to the scene of the fire by the railroad company and efforts were made to save some of the cars. A high wind swept the flames in a solid sheet the full length of the transfer house across four tracks before a wheel could be moved."

Some of the cars contained oil in small quantities. Frequent explosions, sent showers of flaming oil in all directions. Some of the cars caught fire while they were being pulled out of the pathway of the flames.

The car shops, located opposite the transfer shed and directly in the pathway of the flames, caught fire a number of times.

At 2 o'clock the fire was still burning fiercely. Buffalo, N. Y., May 22.—A message received from East Buffalo at 2:30 says the fire is under control. The car shops were saved. Nearly six hundred cars were destroyed.

The loss is roughly estimated at $200,000.

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WEAK?

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

To Prove What the Great Kidney Remedy, Swamp-Root, Will Do for YOU, Every Reader of The Constitution May Have a Sample Bottle Sent Absolutely Free by Mail.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work. Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected, and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince any one.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for many kinds of diseases, and if permitted to continue much suffering with fatal results are sure to follow. Kidney trouble irritates the nerves, makes you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable. Makes you pass water often during the night. Unhealthy kidneys cause rheumatism, gravel, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints and muscles.

Your head aches and back aches, causes indigestion, stomach and liver trouble, you get a pale, yellow complexion, makes you feel as though you had heart trouble; you may have plenty of ambition, but no strength; get weak and waste away.

The cure for these troubles is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the world-famous kidney remedy. In taking Swamp-Root you afford natural help to the kidneys, and in the most perfect manner, Nature, for Swamp-Root is the most perfect healer and gentle aid to the kidneys that is known to medical science.

If there is any doubt in your mind as to your condition, take from your urine, rising about four ounces, place it in a glass or bottle and let it stand twenty-four hours. If on examination it is milky or cloudy, if there is a brick-dust settling, or if small particles float about in it, your kidneys are in need of immediate attention.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is used in the leading hospitals, recommended by physicians in their private practice, and is taken by doctors themselves who have kidney ailments, because they recognize in it the greatest and most successful remedy for kidney, liver and bladder troubles.

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the refunding bottle. If you have the slightest symptoms of kidney or bladder troubles, or if there is a trace of it in your family history, send at once to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., who will gladly send you by mail, immediately, without cost to you, a sample bottle of Swamp-Root, and a book containing many of the thousands upon thousands of testimonials, letters received from men and women cured. In writing, be sure to say that you read this generous offer in The Atlanta Daily Constitution.

KOSHER MEAT CAUSES RIOT.

AT NEW YORK AND BOSTON

Boston, May 22.—"Kosher meat" disturbances broke out in the west end section of this city today. About 300 Hebrews—men, women and children—gathered in front of a meat store, on Brighton street, and threw eggs and decayed fruit at the building. The windows were smashed and the stock of meats ruined.

The police interfered and arrested two women and one man who were the ring leaders. A customer who was leaving the store with a piece of meat, was assaulted and a woman was injured during the stampede of the crowd.

Later crowds attacked two meat stores in the north end, smashed the windows, and spoiled the stock.

New York, May 22.—Seven hundred women, men and children attacked the shop of a Norfolk street butcher tonight. The butcher had opened his store for the sale of meat, and the society of Savannah at the east side people that no meat should be sold. The butcher refused to obey the mob that ordered him to close and before the police reserves could be summoned his place was a wreck. Four arrests were made.

CROPS RUINED BY HAILSTORM

Thousands of Acres of Cotton and Corn Injured or Destroyed.

LEAVES TORN FROM TREES AND PILED ON THE GROUND

Ears of Corn are Stripped Off the Stalks—Many of the Farmers
Will Have to Plant Their Cotton Crops Again.

Sylvania, Ga., May 22.—(Special).—A terrific hail storm visited a portion of this county yesterday afternoon and did great damage to the crops. The devastated district lies about 4 miles below Sylvania toward the Savannah river and up along Brainerd creek.

Those who visited the hail-swept farms today say that the destruction is beyond description. The corn is literally torn into shreds and the cotton is stripped to the stalk. Many of the farmers will have their cotton crops to plant over again and are out today hunting seed. The corn may come out, but will be materially injured. Much of it will undoubtedly die.

From the accounts given of the hail storm it was the fiercest that ever swept this county. Many of the farmers declare that some of the stones were fully as large as guinea eggs. The green leaves were torn from the trees in the forest and piled thick upon the ground.

It is estimated that there were several thousand acres of corn and cotton injured and killed in this county.

TWO BOYS GUILTY OF MURDER

They Are Given Life Terms for Killing Negro.

Sylvania, Ga., May 22.—(Special).—In the superior court here yesterday James and Henry Summers, two white boys who live near Woodliff, in this county, were convicted of the murder of a negro named Isaiah Williams. The jury recommended them to the mercy of the court, and Judge Evans sentenced them to the penitentiary for life.

The crime was committed last December. The evidence showed that the body of the murdered man was found buried in a branch, and that the Summers boys had been in possession of his watch and pistol, which they disposed of to other parties.

They did not deny the killing, but claimed that the negro first shot at one of them before they killed him. A motion has been made for a new trial.

ARTESIAN WELL MAY FAIL

Boring in Dougherty County May Count for Naught.

Albany, Ga., May 22.—(Special).—Albanyans are beginning to fear that failure is to top one of their artesian wells, after success in boring nearly a score.

Albany's first artesian well was sunk in 1882. The first well of this character had been bored in this county a year or two earlier, and was the first flowing artesian well in Georgia. There are now twenty wells in Albany and Dougherty county.

Fourteen months ago the city council of Albany authorized the boring of a ten-inch well for the city water works exclusively. Work has been in progress for more than a year, with occasional interruptions. The idea in boring the well was to pass the water-bearing stratum which supplies all the other wells in this section and find another water stratum at a greater depth.

But the theories of those who were supposed to know the strata of the earth have thus far been set at naught, for although the new well has gone to a depth of 1,200 feet, a flow of only forty gallons per minute has been secured, and this comes from a stratum found at a depth of 830 feet. A great many parties here who have studied the geological formation here are of the opinion that the well will finally have to be abandoned, and the city will have on its hands nothing but a hole in the ground, costing several thousand dollars and yielding only a few gallons of water every hour. The work is still being prosecuted, however, in the hope of finding an abundant supply of water a little further down.

SESSIONS OF BROTHERHOOD

Change in Age Limit in Insurance
Department Discussed.

Norfolk, Va., May 22.—Today's sessions of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers' convention were devoted entirely to discussing a change in the age limit in the insurance department of the order. During the time that has elapsed since the last biennial convention a general desire for an increase in the age limit has developed and this has caused the question to crop out at the present convention.

The ladies auxiliary of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers today elected the following officers of the insurance department of the order: Mrs. George Wilson, of Albany, Pa., president; Mrs. M. L. Robertson, of Toledo, Ohio, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Beecher, of Toledo, Kan., Mrs. Chester Darnell, of Fort Wayne, Ind., and Mrs. Frank Boomer, of Raton, N. M., grand trustees.

INTERRUPTED SAM SMALL

But the Reply Took the Carrollton
Audience by Storm.

HE FAVORED LOCAL OPTION

Because Prohibition Would Lose
Much That It Has Gained by Tampering with the Law.

Carrollton, Ga., May 22.—(Special).—The speech made by Sam Small Wednesday night on local option is the absorbing topic of conversation, provoking more discussion than anything that has yet happened here in the gubernatorial campaign. It is certain the speech made a deep impression and convinced many that any reversal of the present liquor legislation of the state will be dangerous, equally to temperance conditions and to the safety of the democratic party.

It happened too late in his speech to wire, but there was a lively time for a few minutes when interruptions of Mr. Small began by questions from Mr. Reese, who tried to help the Guey people break the force of the speech. Mr. Small has shown that enforced state prohibition is purely a republican policy. Mr. Reese objected and accused Mr. Small of supporting the whiskey ring campaign for Mr. Terrell. Mr. Small replied hotly and disposed of Mr. Reese with the declaration that he came to Carrollton to speak the truth and no man living had power to stop him. "Let the truth help or hurt whom it will, but let the people have it in facts and figures that cannot be denied."

The Rev. Mr. Lewis then interjected and intimated that Mr. Small had backslidden from former views of the prohibition issue.

Mr. Small said: "I have not backslidden. I have found the facts as I state them and I fear the recurrence of these same conditions of Maine and Kansas here in Georgia. I have exercised the right of the wise man to do that, as Mr. Guey has done conspicuously, as Sam Jones did on the dispensary bill, and as you, my brother, have done. You once stood for local option and didn't want the liquor question dragged into politics. And when you have fought and bled, and suffered and lost as much for prohibition as I have done, you can then fairly challenge my record. And if it be for local option from an honest conviction that it is best for Georgia today, then I can stand it, but you will never be able, God bless you, to make the people of Georgia believe you speak the truth when you say it. If to fear prohibition and to try and save all of your year of mind, may make the most of it!"

"An effort to enforce state prohibition, as against local option, will open a Pandora's box of evils on the communities that are now dry and sober. It will set the blind tiger to roaming every highway and byway of the state. It will bring in a flood of enemies from liquorism to fight for the repeal of the law. They will enfranchise with unlimited money to pay taxes of every negro and bum and set in Georgia. They will trample white supremacy under foot and the African, with the balance of power, will be in the saddle and Georgia again in the horrors of social and political debauchery. In God's name let not these things come upon us!"

Cheer after cheer rent the air at almost every sentence and at the close Mr. Small received an ovation.

WAGNER DAY IN CHARLESTON.

Tribute Is Paid the President of the Exposition.

Charleston, S. C., May 22.—Wagner day scored an attendance of 50,000 people, 10,000 more than on President Roosevelt's day, and surpassed all former civic celebrations in this city in honor of a private citizen. While all was a scene of busy activity and merry rejoicing at the exposition grounds, the city of Charleston, its stores closed and its highways of commerce empty, lay sleeping in a quiet of more than Sabbath stillness.

Captain Wagner is president of the exposition company and has more than once come to the aid of the exposition when its financial needs were the sorest and the demonstration was practical evidence of Charleston's appreciation of his munificence and public spirit, for there were no free admissions today. There was a civic and military parade from the city to the exposition grounds. Though Captain Wagner had earnestly requested that only a meager and formal programme be observed at the auditorium, the enthusiasm of the people knew no bounds and he was obliged to hear of a grand and magnificent programme. The program included addresses by United States Judge Brawley and Mayor Smyth. He responded modestly and in excellent taste. He said that while the enterprise had not been a financial success, it has been a splendid success in many other ways and in the end will benefit the city.

SAVANNAH VIEWS

THE NEW STATION

The $1,000,000 Depot Is Opened to the Public.

TRAINS ARE TO ENTER SUNDAY

The Officers in the Building Are To Be Occupied by the Roads Using Tracks and Also by Southern Express Company.

Savannah, Ga., May 22.—(Special).—The Savannah union station was opened to the public inspection this afternoon for the first time. Crowds of visitors were in the building during the hours of the opening, and praise and admiration were heard upon all sides. From 3 o'clock until 9 at night the rotunda and concourse were thronged, the visitors appreciating the magnificence of the station. Officials of the station were on hand during the opening. Station Master R. G. Matthews made himself accessible to the prominent visitors who called on him. An orchestra furnished the music for the occasion, and palms and other foliage plants added their beauty to the architectural decoration of the interior. This opening is preliminary to the inauguration of train service in the station. This will be next Sunday, May 25. The first train to enter the station will be one of the Plant system's, which will arrive shortly after midnight Saturday night.

Eighteen trains each way a day will enter the station under the present summer schedule, but this number will be nearly doubled during the winter season, when the through tourist trains are on and the local service is increased. The clock signals, covering the some 8 miles of approaches, are yet to be installed. This will take several months.

On Saturday night J. R. Fried, who has the privileges of the dining room at the station, will tender a banquet as a compliment to the officials of the Savannah Union Station Company and of the three railway lines, the Plant system, the Seaboard Air Line and the Southern railway, that will use the station. About one hundred have been invited to the banquet.

Officers in the New Station.

The offices of Superintendent Walter Hale, of the Seaboard Air Line; Superintendent W. H. Wright, of the Plant system, and Superintendent J. F. Hockaday, of the Southern Express Company, have been moved from their old locations to the station, which is commodiously supplied with offices. The Southern Express Company will also establish a large depot force at the station, withdrawing its forces from the present Plant system depot and the Central railway depot. The Central railway depot has not yet decided whether it will enter into the use of the union station with the other lines. The matter was left some time ago with President John M. Egan and Chairman of the Board J. F. Hanson, who have not yet reached a decision. They say they have excellent passenger terminals, but it may be that they will determine to relinquish them.

The Savannah union station and its approaches cost close upon $1,000,000. Bonds to that amount will be issued by the company to cover the cost of the construction.

Ashburn, Ga., May 22.—(Special).—The body of E. W. Murray, an employee of the Candler Lumber Company, was found at the mill at Worth today torn literally to pieces. He was employed as a stationary engineer, and went to the mill as usual this morning. There was no witness to the tragedy, but it is supposed he got caught in the machinery. He leaves a widow and two small children.

CONDITION OF THE NEGROES.

It Is Discussed in Mobile by Visiting Congressmen.

Mobile, Ala., May 22.—The noon meeting in the State street colored church was the occasion of an address by Rev. A. N. McEwan upon the condition of the negroes. He inveighed against the disfranchisement of the negro by the constitution and said it was done because the negro when he voted, always voted the republican ticket. He was followed by Judge Fuller, of Iowa, assistant district attorney of the United States, who said that there is something more to be desired by the negro than the casting of a ballot, and that is his industrial development. He declared that if upon his return to Iowa the question came up, he would vote in favor of an intelligent ballot.

Congressman Littlefield, of Maine, was the next speaker and the photo of his address to the negroes was that labor is king and conquers all things. Congressman Thompson, of Alabama, spoke of his gratitude for the warmth of the welcome extended his guests. The afternoon was spent upon Mobile river. The visitors have been elaborately entertained.

INQUEST HELD IN PRISON

Over Body of White Prisoner Killed by Another.

THE CHARGE IS NOW MURDER

Matthews Claims the Difficulty Was Started by Rickerson, the Man Who Died.

Macon, Ga., May 22.—(Special).—The Constitution contained an account this morning of the fight in the Bibb county jail last night between two white prisoners, A. F. Matthews and T. A. Rickerson, in which Rickerson was fatally cut with a knife by Matthews and was otherwise injured, and died from his wounds at the hospital several hours after the injuries were inflicted. Today Rickerson's body was taken to the undertaker's and the coroner held an inquest.

As the only witnesses to the tragedy were prisoners in jail, the examination of witnesses by the coroner's jury had to be conducted at the jail. Five or six prisoners testified. Their testimony was that the trouble was commenced by Rickerson yesterday morning, who quarreled with Matthews, because Matthews snored so loud and disturbed Rickerson.

Rickerson renewed the quarrel at noon yesterday. Last night the men began fighting, when Matthews stabbed Rickerson five times in the right breast, once in the left breast, once in the throat and once near the right eye. The back of Rickerson's head was also fractured, but whether this was done with some kind of instrument or Rickerson received it in falling is not known. This fracture was alone sufficient to cause death, but the stab near the right eye was also a fatal one and perhaps Rickerson would also have died from a stab in the left breast.

Matthews claims that the knife with which he killed Rickerson belonged to Rickerson, and after the fight started he took the knife from Rickerson and cut him. Rickerson was a much heavier man than Matthews and was about eight years older. Matthews is 22 years old and married. The knife has not been seen since the cutting. It is said that Matthews sent "good time" in the jail. The verdict of the coroner's jury was that Matthews killed Rickerson in the charge of murder. Rickerson's body will be taken by his father to Eatonton, Rickerson's former home.

FEE QUESTION IS SETTLED.

What Lawyers in Lazarus Company
Case Received.

Macon, Ga., May 22.—(Special).—The question of fees in the distribution of the assets in the Lazarus Jewelry Company case was settled up in the county court this morning. The case has been in court some time.

The actual amount in cash recovered was over $8,000, only after a number of hearings here, in Savannah and in New Orleans was this result obtained.

These matters had been referred to John R. L. Smith, master, for an appraisal. He had allowed $1,000 to Hardeman, Davis, Turner & Jones $1,600 for their fees and expenses, the expenses having been about $300. Mr. Cooper, receiver, had previously paid his expenses which were allowed him and the master allowed him $350. Messrs. Dessau, Harris & Harris were allowed $250. Judge Speer, while recognizing the value of the services of counsel and the receiver, thought the fees for the services were too large in view of the fund in court, the balance of which must be distributed to creditors. The total of the sums allowed was $2,250. The judge ordered the sums reduced 25 per cent. This left to Hardeman, Davis, Turner & Jones $1,125 including expenses, making their fee $800. Mr. Cooper was allowed $350, and Dessau, Harris & Harris $250. Mr. Cooper and Hardeman, Davis, Turner & Jones each received $200 on account, this will make the actual payment these counsel $385 and Mr. Cooper $480.

IS SAID NOW TO BE BROKEN

As Soon as King Mill Is Running on Full Time the Others in the Lockout Will Be Started

Augusta, Ga., May 22.—(Special).—The King cotton mill, which was closed several weeks ago, when its employees struck for an increase in wages, started in part today, 160 hands out of 500 reporting for work at 7 o'clock.

It is claimed that this showing practically breaks the backbone of the strike, in which 10,000 people were involved. The mill will be filled up with non-union men from other mills, and it is claimed by the owners that it will be running on full time by tomorrow noon. As soon as the King mill is being operated on full time all the mills here and in adjoining towns which put a lockout in force will start up. It is understood that the Carolina operatives have guaranteed sufficient help to operate the King mill fully by Saturday morning.

VISITOR IN NEW YORK

Meets Many People from the South.

A prepossessing, heavy-set man of well-to-do appearance sat on the upper deck of a coastwise steamship. He had just lighted his after supper cigar and being in an exceedingly congenial mood was easily induced to talk about his recent "good time" as he termed it. He was a southerner by birth, and early in life he had been intrusted with a large estate in Mississippi, which required his inclination to travel, as the life on a plantation in the fertile lands of Mississippi is very engaging, both with cares and pleasures.

"I have visited the principal cities in the east," he went on to say, "but like most folks who tour this part of the country, I spent the greater part of my time in New York. One always has a very good idea of what New York is like when they get there, for the time when one begins to understand things until you have an insatiable desire to see the metropolis you are continually impressed with the size and importance of the place. You know there will be tall buildings and other such things, but what takes you by surprise is the great industrial activity. I must say that it is quite strenuous, and I had my nervous headache for three solid days before I began to get at all used to the great noise."

"My business connections kept me well entertained, and I was continually on the go, but I must confess that I was very glad to meet one of the boys from down home. I was stopping at the Marlborough and my young friend introduced me to a number of people from the south who were there, and after that I felt very much at home. It took me about a week to finish up my business, and the remainder of the time spent sightseeing. I was very conveniently located and in the morning would take a walk through the shopping district, which was only a short distance, and likewise in the evening could reach the theater in a few minutes' walk."

"A few friends and myself were taking lunch at the Marlborough cafe, when one of the party began to point out the great deeds made in the six-line of New York by the tall buildings, and I concluded they were very imposing, but I would rather stop at a hotel like the Marlborough, which is fire proof and very Atlanta, won the individual prize. On Broadway, between Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh street. One of the most enjoyable features of my trip was the many acquaintances I made among southern people stopping at the Marlborough."

COMMENCEMENT AT BETHEL

Closing Exercises Held at Male College in Cuthbert.

Cuthbert, Ga., May 22.—(Special).—The commencement exercises at the Bethel male college were brought to a close yesterday. The year, in point of attendance, has been one of the largest in the recent history of the college, and witnessed the erection of the new two-story brick college building, besides the improvement of the boarding building. In the absence of Grand Master Max Meyerhart, the corner stone exercises were conducted by President E. A. Keese. He delivered a very interesting address and was assisted by several professors. The board of trustees met yesterday. Professors E. A. and W. S. Keese were elected co-presidents of the college. Professor Will Keese will be at the active head of the work and look to the work of the institution, whom Professor E. A. Keese will be field agent, presenting the claims of the institution away from home. The trustees propose making the work of the college next year the best in many years.

THE DEATH OF J. HARRY KEMP.

End Comes in Cincinnati To Native of Albany.

Albany, Ga., May 22.—(Special).—A telegram received here this morning brought news of the death of J. Harry Kemp, which occurred last night in Cincinnati. Death was the result of an operation performed several days ago. The remains will be brought here for interment. J. H. Kemp was an Albanian by birth, son of John Kemp, of Albany, Ga. He was in the railway mail service and was recently promoted to the post of first assistant in the office of the superintendent of the Alabama division, with headquarters at Birmingham. He went from the latter place to Cincinnati several days ago, being accompanied by his brother, William L. Kemp, of Atlanta. He was shot by a man named J. W. Kemp, of this place, and news of his death has been received with genuine sorrow in this community. He was an Emory graduate.

White Man Wounds Negro.

Tifton, Ga., May 22.—(Special).—Jeff Gill, a young white man of this place, was placed in jail last night charged with shooting a negro named Sabah Bryant. Gill and several other white men were in the negro portion of the town Sunday night, where they had words with some of the negroes there. Yesterday Gill met the negro Bryant, and it is claimed had turned to walk away when Gill shot him. The wound is not necessarily fatal.

Address by Noble Grand Bass. Ashburn, Ga., May 22.—(Special).—J. L. Bass, of Rome, Ga., noble grand of the Independent Order Odd Fellows of the State, paid this place a visit and addressed the members of that order at their hall last night. ATHENS CADETS INSPECTED.

COLONEL OBEAR PLEASED WITH UNIVERSITY DRILLING.

University Catalogue Is Out Showing the Various Branches of the College.

Athens, Ga., May 22.—(Special).—Yesterday afternoon Lieutenant Colonel Obeare, inspector general of the state militia, inspected the university cadets. The companies were carried through inspection drill and battalion drill. There were a large number of men drill. Colonel Obeare seemed to be very much pleased with the drilling.

The cadets are growing more interested in the commencement drill as they approach the last preliminary drill which will occur in a few days. Last year company B won the prize drill, while one of their men, Sergeant Baxter, of Atlanta, won the individual prize. This year the other companies mean to win the contest.

The university catalogue has just reached the university. It contains accounts of all the branches of the university, showing their attendance, what they have done during the year, and their course of studies. The attendance on the different branches of the university is as follows:

BECOMING A MOTHER

Is an ordeal which all women approach with indescribable fear, for nothing compares with the pain and horror of child-birth. The thought of the suffering and danger in store for her, robs the expectant mother of all pleasant anticipations of the coming event, and casts over her a shadow of gloom which cannot be shaken off. Thousands of women have found that the use of Mother's Friend during pregnancy robs confinement of all pain and danger, and insures safety to life of mother and child. This scientific liniment is a god-send to all women at the time of their most critical trial. Not only does Mother's Friend carry women safely through the perils of child-birth, but its use gently prepares the system for the coming event, prevents "morning sickness," and other discomforts of this period.

Those Fugitive Boodlers.

The case of Gaynor and Greene, now on in Canada upon extradition proceedings, will test the comity between the Dominion and the United States in matters of crime committed against the government of this country. It is very difficult for the layman to understand the sort of law in any country that would allow immunity to criminals escaped from the jurisdiction of their crimes and boldly boasting their presence in that country to escape answering indictments for their misdeeds.

On arriving in Canada the man Gaynor said "we knew before we came up here that we could not be extradited." Aole counsel had told them where to go to be rid of the bother of facing a court and jury of this nation for the frauds they had perpetrated upon its treasury. But we very much mistake the ordinarily rugged honesty of the Canadian authorities if they permit mere technicalities to prevent them from rendering up these impudent rascals as an act of both grace and justice to this country.

Hon. Marion Erwin has pursued the case of these men through all its ramifications and is prepared to show to any honest magistrate or minister of justice that they are a graceless brace of boodlers who boldly robbed this government in conspiracy with Captain Oberlin M. Carter, now doing time in Leavenworth prison.

A Revelation for Patriots.

The republican congressional party now touring in Alabama express great surprise because of the astounding evidence of enterprise and wealth development that they have encountered in the south. We do not wonder that much they have seen thus amazed them, and it reveals how superficially in the past they have regarded the constantly augmenting facts of southern reconstruction and expansion along industrial lines.

It is, perhaps, an unfortunate incident of the largeness of our republic that so few people can keep well informed concerning its conditions as a whole. It is our habit to be provincial, or, as we more commonly phrase it, sectional. The average eastern man largely confines his reading and information to eastern affairs and easily comes to the conclusion that "the finest of the wheat," the elect people, the greatest wealth, the largest spirit of enterprise and the only reliable patriotism is that which bears the trade legend "made in New England," or of which it is said "it comes from New York." The common man of the central states and the middle west, having migrated in blood from the east and seeing most of his products go that way for exchange or export, naturally concludes that the light cometh out of the east!

To millions of those people the south has always been more a country of the imagination than of metes and bounds; more a land of romance, myth and mystery than contiguous territory of American men and realities; more a territory of strange denizens, Janus-faced, smiling on one side with grace and hospitality and frowning on the other side with curious hates and sudden furies, than as a land of civilized, independent, sensitively cultured and progressive citizens. This widespread misunderstanding of the south is pitiful and is the root of many wrong-purposes between the sections.

It is well, therefore, that these rep-representative men from other sections have come among us. They are learning that our senators and congressmen are not each a rara avis of his community, sent on for exhibition purposes, but that they are men of the masses and types of as pure and patriotic American states as inhabit the national map. They are learning that the south is not a droning, shiftless land of ill-content, but a region that is being transformed by the sons of the soil into a paradise of activities, prosperity and content. They are seeing for themselves the boundless treasure-fields of our snowy staple, the cheap and effective labor of its production, and the power and skill of native brains and hands applied to its manufacture.

Then they are beholding the future throne province of the king of the pig iron, steel and machinery industries of the nation and the world. They can now begin to realize the value of our resources and their coming roles in the conquest of world markets through southern ports and through the isthmian canal. And they are seeing the slow but sure increment of our educational, political and commercial power that mean inestimable strength and influence in the national life of the future.

If, after seeing these things, they return to congress and to their homes with clearer vision of the south's place and rights in the union, of her claims for equitable treatment in legislation and administration, and of the sympathy with her problems and patriotism that every honest man ought to have, the tour will have been magnificently profitable to them, to their peoples, to the south and to the national interests at large.

A World's Fair Opportunity.

The esteemed St. Louis Globe-Democrat continues to sound its sonorous hewgag against any tariff concessions to Cuba, or any other old foreign country, as contrary to all sound republican doctrine. Meanwhile it is anxious to have all those old countries make large appropriations to their products and industries represented at the St. Louis fair of 1904. Presumably, it thinks they will do this just for the delightful privilege of seeing how we protect ourselves by the Chinese-wall tariff and make it impossible almost for themselves to get a dollar's worth of their goods into our markets.

Still it might be a good thing for all hands if England, Germany, France and Cuba should come to the fair and display their goods, and wares, and products, with labels on them reciting, for instance, the cost of each article to the American consumer—first under the Dingley rates and then under reciprocity, or anti-tariff, tariff rates. In that case we would read, "This suit of clothing—$16 under Dingley rates; $10 under reciprocal trade treaty!" And so on through the catalogue of a thousand articles of daily need and consumption.

The presidential campaign will be on in 1904 and we cannot imagine a better campaign of education than a world's fair placarded up in the fashion we have suggested. Then every city geeker and country hayseed would be able to see in figures that could not be dodged just how the tariff is employed by the republican party to create monopolies, build up extortionate trusts and enhance the costs of daily living to every man, woman and child in the country.

Libraries for the Rural Schools.

Realizing the lack of adequate library facilities in the rural schools of the state, the Georgia Teachers' Association some time ago undertook to supply this long-felt want by appointing the following committee of representative educators to take the matter up with the view to seeing what could be done: J. S. Stewart, chairman; E. C. Branson, M. L. Brittain, Crosby Wright, W. R. Power and G. R. Glenn. This committee has gone industriously to work and much good has already been accomplished in the direction of the contemplated betterment of existing conditions, but popular interest has not yet been sufficiently aroused in the movement to secure the best practical results.

Every citizen of Georgia realizes the vital importance to the cause of common school education in the state of improving the status of the rural schools in every way possible, and the movement which the Georgia Teachers' Association has undertaken needs only to be carefully explained to secure the heartiest cooperation of the public at large. Under existing conditions the rural schools of Georgia are simply starving for the lack of adequate library facilities. In many of the homes of the state there is an utter dearth of books and unless some provision is made for supplying the rural schools with adequate library facilities an important factor in the education of the children of the state will be lacking. If there of us who have never known what it is to be without good books on the shelves of our libraries could go into the homes of some of the humble people of the state and see how meagerly they are supplied with good literature, we would be simply appalled at the revelation and no sacrifice which we could make for the purpose of improving matters would be begrudged on our part. With the exception of the family Bible, a copy of "Pilgrim's Progress" or a volume of Talmage's sermons we venture to say that the average home in many of the rural districts is almost entirely destitute of mental pabulum in the way of good books, and the sooner this condition of things is met with proper measures of relief the better. Briefly stated the plan which the committee of the Georgia Teachers' Association has adopted contemplates the raising of a fund out of which $100 can be appropriated to the rural school in any district in which an additional $10 is subscribed, enabling the school to secure a library of fifty well-selected books valued at $20. George Foster Peabody has donated $500 to this proposed fund and recently the county school commissioners convened in Augusta enthusiastically pledged $2,500 in furtherance of the movement. At least $25,000 should be raised by the people of Georgia for the purpose of insuring the success of this worthy enterprise in the interest of the rural schools of the state.

Towns and cities can take care of themselves, but the rural districts need the help of those on the outside and we are quite sure that the people of Georgia will cheerfully respond to the appeal which is made on behalf of this large and important element of the schools population. Contributions to the fund may be sent to Professor J. S. Stewart, of Dahlonega, Ga., who will also take pleasure in supplying prospective contributors with any desired information upon the subject. Some of Georgia's most distinguished men have been educated in the rural schools of the state and from those same obscure but indispensable nurseries of thought she looks for many of the leaders who are to control her affairs in the years to come.

STATE POLITICAL GOSSIP.

The Albany Herald thinks that whenever a candidate for office begins to talk about rings and "ring rule" he is beginning to have serious misgivings as to his election and is getting ready to let himself down as easy as possible after the people have voted.

Thomasville Times-Enterprise: It is said that both factions in Savannah will nominate F. C. Stovall for the legislature. This would be a richly deserved tribute to Mr. Stovall. He is worthy of it.

The Columbus Ledger declares that the hot pace Joe Terrell has been setting the boys in the legislature is now that the candidates have entered upon the home stretch.

The Madison Advertiser remarks that "Colonel Guerry seems to have the faculty of crawling under the hurdle."

Albany Herald: After the election Candidate Guerry will probably settle down on the conviction that the result would have been different if he could only have managed to get Candidate Terrell or even Warner Hill into a "jail" suit.

Augusta Herald: What's this Savannah Press tells us? Dupont Guerry failed to show up at Savannah to have a joint debate with Terrell? Zoume, Willie Sullivan, are you sure of that? Why, we want to see the debate. That Dupont was spelling for joint debates—fairly dreamed of them.

Athens Banner: Mr. Terrell says he does not mind fighting those who meet him in the open on the week-days, but he does object to these alleged ministers who fight him seven days in the week when he only has six days in which to fight back.

Madison Advertiser: Some of our prohibition friends have expressed surprise that the Advertiser should support Joe Terrell for governor or as against the pronounced prohibition views of Dupont Guerry. Mr. Guerry does not represent our views on this question. We are opposed to state prohibition by legislative enactment. We have no admiration for Mr. Guerry as a politician or as a prospective governor, because observation has taught us that overdoing reformation is a failure. If Mr. Terrell is nominated Mr. Guerry will support him, but we believe the half that he has charged against Mr. Terrell we would not vote for him, though he were nominated a dozen times. We support Mr. Terrell because his character as a citizen, a Christian gentleman, as a prohibitionist, and in every phase of political life, is one that inspires confidence, and leads us to believe that his vigorous best subserve the public interest at this time.

Quitman Free Press: Mr. Guerry says he "expected" vilification at the hands of Mr. Terrell. Judging from what he has been saying about his opponent he had every right to expect it.

Nashville South Georgian: The "Dunn" letter, from McIntosh county, which was published by Guerry's campaign manager, seems to have been a boomerang. It only hit Tapp, who thought he was talking some sense.

Augusta Herald: "Still, the business man's candidate" is a popular slogan in this vicinity just now.

Augusta Chronicle: Hon. J. H. Estill is assured of that welcome and hearing that Richmond county always extends to a prominent Georgian and a life-long democrat.

Augusta Tribune: Colonel Estill's candidacy is just now beginning to be understood. The people are rallying to his support. The prospect is growing bright of his election.

Forsyth Chronicle: Mr. Guerry's strength lies in the country and these are the people whose power it should be to say who shall be governor.

Waycross Journal: While Mr. Terrell is trying to pose as a good prohibitionist, and Colonel Estill an advocate of equal taxation, the people will not forget that Mr. Guerry is the real father of these issues, and the other two have been forced to accept them because the issues are popular with the people.

The Madison Advertiser declares the absorbing question with Macon candidates is which drinks the most liquor.

Darien Gazette: The prospects for Atlanta getting that new depot at an early date seems to be growing brighter. We hope it will not be delayed much longer.

Savannah Herald: Atlanta doesn't propose to entertain celestial unwares. The distinguished Chinese minister, Wu, will be given a smothering with a taste of her splendid hospitality on the 23rd instant.

Carrollton Times: Atlanta is ambitious and is preparing to extend her limits so as to include some 10,000 additional inhabitants; however, these 10,000 people do not like the idea of being swallowed bodily, even by Atlanta, hence they are protesting against it.

Athens Banner: A 10-year-old white boy has been found drunk on the streets of Atlanta. This is a disgrace to that city.

Augusta Chronicle: Anyhow, Atlanta hasn't had a volcanic eruption.

Americus Times-Recorder: Atlanta was not to be outdone by St. Pierre and had her own eruption of blood and fire, the negro desperado, Richardson, proving the Mont Pelée in this latter instance.

Augusta Herald: Atlanta has no Mont Pelée, but she has had a volcano that was several years ago and warms the folks who they might expect some day. Bully for Atlanta.

Athens Banner: Atlanta will please "go way back and sit down." Athens has within her borders the person who formerly owned the island of Martinique which was practically wiped off the map by a volcanic eruption a few days ago.

Spartanburg (S. C.) Herald: Atlanta is trying to become the seat of a great Presbyterian university. Atlanta usually gets what she wants.

Rome Record: What has become of the curfew law in Atlanta? We favor this measure in any city. It would certainly do no harm to enact it in every town and city in Georgia. Young folks are infinitely better situated at home than on the streets. The atmosphere of the two places is usually different.

Augusta Herald: Atlanta proposes to have a first-rate municipal election. There are four candidates for mayor and each of them is confident.

"JUST FROM GEORGIA."

The Hopeful Brother.

In thorny ways an 'lonesome days, when sorrow thrills the breast.

I sorter spend a thought or two in hopin' fer the best;

In sayin' "Light Comes after night,

An' there will break a mornin' bright!"

When life seems but a rain of tears—all dreary an' unblessed.

I sorter say: "I'll cheer the way by hopin' fer the best!"

Away with sighs!—

Light in the skies,

An' suns—they only set to rise!

An' so it is—from day to day I walk the way along,

An' when the sorrow shakes my soul I sings it into song!

The mornin' beams,

An' life is sweeter than my dream!

A Boston critic has something to say about the "serious" novel. Strikes us, from the way they're pitched into literature they're all of 'em a mighty serious proposition.

A Life-Word.

Life ain't a dream o' sunshine,

In meadows o' the May—

Work to do, my hearty—

Work to do today;

For time is like a river,

Singing itself away.

No, not a dream o' sunshine—

A world of stormless light

It's but a brief good mornin',

With all the hills in sight,

An' then a low, and whisper

In valleys of Goodnight!

We read with interest an account of an altercation between an author and his critic, in which the author beat the critic severely. Some of these authors must have been dining regularly of late. They are feeling their oats.

From Headquarters.

Here is a verbatim copy of a note dispatched to a Billville candidate by the mistress of the house:

"Dear John: I know you're busy runnin' fer office; but won't you please to take time to come home an' change your striped shirt, so's it can go in the wash?"

Tomorrow.

Tis world has got its share of woes—

It's mighty full o' sorrow;

But, thank the Lord! we never know

What's comin' on Tomorrow!

An' that's jest why in hope we go,

An' lots o' peccol we borrow;

It's happenin' jest not to know

What's comin' on Tomorrow!

We notice a number of sea poems in the magazines now. How these editors do time the seasons!

Poets as Teachers.

In an article dealing with subjects literary The Burlington Hawkeye says:

"We need no books, no teachers on how to read the poets, or how to distinguish poetry. The writers themselves teach us all that we need to know. Your Tennyson, your Wordsworth, your Burns, have taught you all that is needed. A mere passing acquaintance with real poetry is worth more to you than all the stuff that has ever been crowded into text-books or instilled into your mind by the peripatetic lecturer."

Rain on the Fields.

What sound so sweet

By the hill and glades,

As the big, round rain

On the corn's dry blades?

There's a thankful note

For the gracious drops—

The breath of life

To the thirsty crops!

"Lawd!" exclaimed a colored citizen, as he snatched the preparation from his brow, "How I does wish dey'd put a few mo' dark spots on de sun!"

"Des ter think er it," said a Georgia dandy, "After all his sinful life he accidentally dyes 'em' watermillers!"

With Joy.

Sorrow ever cometh

To sadden and destroy.

But in a daisied meadow

We're hand-in-hand with Joy!

We may be Happy Yet.

Mist o' field an' grove,

Wintry sleat 'n' snow;

Not a drop that's fallin'

But makes a daisied grove.

All the oak-ferns blain'—

Warm an' bright as June;

Life an' love amazin'

An' Adies all in tune!

Before the author's through with one historical novel the author is plowing away at another. The only comfort the reader has is that on the other side of Jordan there'll be rest for him!

Say what they will of the publishers and what they will of the authors rich enough to sign checks.

In Sight.

The way is weary.

And bleak, and long.

But the hills are singing

The mornin' beams,

An' life is sweeter than my dream!

SEABOARD SOON TO BUILD
ITS BIRMINGHAM LINE

Map showing the new line of the Seaboard Air Line between Atlanta and Birmingham. The dotted lines show where new track will be laid from Birmingham to connect with the East and West at Pell City, Ala., and from Atlanta to connect with the East and West at Rockmart or Cedartown. It has not yet been decided whether the connection will be made at Rockmart or Cedartown, though both routes have been surveyed.

THE purchase of the East and West railroad of Alabama, which extends from Cartersville, Ga., to Pell City, Ala., by Bladenburg, Thomas & Co., on New York banking house, whose friendly relations with the Seaboard Air Line are well known, the incorporation of an Alabama company to build the Atlanta and Birmingham Air Line and the application of the Seaboard Air Line to the city council of Birmingham for franchise rights to build into that city, together with the fact that some time ago a charter was granted to a company organized in the interest of the Seaboard to build from Atlanta to Birmingham make it assured that it will be only a short time before the Seaboard will be operating trains between Atlanta and Birmingham. Surveys have already been made between Atlanta and Rockmart and between Atlanta and Cedartown, and the question as to which of the routes will be used is the only one to be settled by the Seaboard authorities before the actual work of building the connecting lines is begun.

Barr Is in Birmingham.

Vice President J. M. Barr, of the Seaboard Air Line, is now in Birmingham, where he is making all arrangements for inaugurating work on the 35-mile link which will connect Pell City, the western terminus of the East and West, with Birmingham. This line will parallel the Southern. The line from Atlanta to Rockmart will be 12 miles in length, while the line from Rockmart to Pell City, if it is built to Cedartown, it is thought that it will be about 60 miles long.

The line from Atlanta to Birmingham will be 126 miles in length if the extension is built to Cedartown and 181 if built to Rockmart. The distance which make up these totals are as follows: From Birmingham to Pell City, to be constructed, 35 miles; from Pell City to Cedartown, on the East and West, 31 miles; from Cedar-town to Atlanta, to be constructed, 50 miles; from Pell City to Rockmart, on the East and West, 35 miles; and from Rockmart to Atlanta, to be constructed, 51 miles.

If the extension from Atlanta to the East and West is built to Rockmart the Seaboard will have to parallel the Southern. The extension to Rockmart will call for 9 miles less of construction than the extension to Cedartown, but will make the line from Atlanta to Birmingham 5 miles longer than via Cedartown. It seems that the authorities are debating the preference between an outlay for the additional construction or the continuous expense which would result from the longer route.

Means Much to Atlanta. The construction of this new line to Birmingham would mean much to Atlanta, as well as being of great benefit to the Seaboard. Birmingham is one of the heaviest originators of tonnage in the country and competing lines would bring much of this through Atlanta. At Birmingham the Seaboard will get connection with the "Prisco" system, with which it is said to be very friendly. This would be of great benefit to both lines. It would give the Seaboard a strong western connection and would give the "Prisco" an outlet for their eastbound business.

The Seaboard has long desired an entry into the coal fields. This it will get by the new line. It will connect with the Southern at Birmingham, while Atlanta will not doubt secure better coal rates on account of the competing lines. The line of the Seaboard, if built by Rockmart, will be only 14 miles longer than the Southern's line, while by Cedartown it will be only 9 miles longer.

It is understood that work on the Birmingham end of the line will begin at once and that after this is completed the Seaboard will operate trains between Atlanta and Birmingham via Cartersville, using the tracks of the Western and Atlantic from Atlanta to Cartersville. The distance from Atlanta to Birmingham via Cartersville is 103 miles, only 33 miles longer than the Southern's line.

EXHIBIT PUT OFF
UNTIL NEXT FALL

Atlanta Manufacturers' Fair May Be Held at Piedmont Park.

COULD NOT GET CITY SITE

Exhibit of Atlanta-Made Goods and Interstate Fair May Be Held at Same Time—Fair Directors and Manufacturers Confering.

The exhibit of Atlanta made goods, which was to be held in July, will now, it is said, be postponed until the fall, and instead of being held in the heart of the city it is likely that the manufacturers will secure the use of one of the fair buildings at Piedmont park, where the exhibit will be run in conjunction with the interstate fair.

The directors of the Southern Interstate Fair Association held a meeting in the chamber of commerce yesterday morning to discuss the matter with the manufacturers. Several prominent Atlanta manufacturers and a number of the fair directors were present. The question of holding the manufacturers' fair in one of the exhibition buildings was discussed, but no definite action was taken.

The directors of the fair association will hold another meeting on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when it is believed representatives from the Manufacturers' Association will be present. It is not unlikely that the question of holding the two fairs in conjunction will be settled at this meeting.

It is believed by a majority of the manufacturers of Atlanta that the big exhibit of Atlanta made goods can be held in better advantage in the fall, as the hot weather of July would undoubtedly keep throngs of visitors away who would otherwise visit the exhibit.

The manufacturers are enthusiastic over the project of holding the exhibit in one of the exhibition buildings, as there will be ample room for displaying the goods to better advantage than if the exhibitors were confined to the space in a city building.

The manufacturers have met with many obstacles in looking for a site in the center of the city, and it has been demonstrated that it is next to impossible to secure an advantageous building.

In the event of the manufacturers not coming to an agreement with the fair directors to erect an exhibition building for their own use, whether the manufacturers exhibit is held at Piedmont park or not it will not take place until fall.

JULIUS WYLY
MEETS DEATH

Was Shot in Attempt To Escape from Convict Camp at Durham.

BLOOD POISON SET IN AND ENDED HIS LIFE

Guard Intentionally Shot Him in the Leg, but the Effect Was, Nevertheless, Fatal—Was a Well-Known Character About Town.

As the result of an attempt to escape from the convict camp at Durham, in Walker county, several days ago, Julius Wyly, of Atlanta, well known about town, is dead.

Wyly's attempt to get away from confinement was made nearly a week ago. He was serving a term of five years at the coal mines at Durham for the robbery of an old man, a confederate veteran, on Decatur street. He was convicted in Judge Candler's court a short time ago and has since been serving his sentence at the Durham camp.

Five or six days ago Wyly thought he saw his chance to escape and made a break for liberty. The guard was too quick for him, however, and fired, the shot taking effect in his leg. This stopped him and his recapture was easily accomplished.

For several days it was not thought his injury would prove serious, but the first of the week gangrene, or a form of blood poison, set in and he died in the camp hospital at Durham on Tuesday.

According to the report that comes to the office of the prison commission, no effort was made to kill Wyly in firing upon him, the guard intentionally shooting him in the leg in order to stop him. Everything possible was done to heal the wound, but blood poison, once started, it was impossible to stop it and he succumbed to its effects.

Several days before Wyly attempted to escape his wife, it is said, went up to Durham to see her husband. She was at the office of the prison commission about ten days ago inquiring as to how she could get there, and is supposed to have gone about that time.

Julius Wyly was a well-known character in Atlanta, and before his conviction of robbery boarded a trolley street. The body has been brought here for interment.

The offense for which Wyly was serving a term was committed several weeks ago. He was charged with robbing the trolley of a gold watch valued at $50. The watch being valued at more than $50, made the offense a felony.

Wyly is said to have placed himself in the company of the veteran, who, it is stated, was drunk, and then cut the watch from the chain. He was arrested shortly afterwards and was tried before Judge John S. Candler in the criminal superior court. Wyly professed his innocence, but the jury returned a verdict of guilty and he was sentenced to serve five years in the penitentiary.

SHRINERS FEAST TOMORROW

Hundreds of Members and Friends Will Attend Barbecue.

NOBLES WEAR RED FEZ There Is To Be Plenty of Camel's Milk for the True Believers To Imbibe.

Shriners of Yearab temple and their friends will have a barbecue tomorrow afternoon at the Cold Springs 'Cue Club grounds, near East Point. It is expected that the affair will be one of the largest of its kind ever given by the Shriners. Between 300 and 400 members of the order and their friends are to partake of the savory dishes to be prepared by Superintendent Tom Ward.

The barbecue will be served at 2:30 o'clock, and the remainder of the day will be spent in driving ball care away. The Shriners are the only order of people organized for the special purpose of suppressing worry, and one has but to see the members of the order on a frolic to observe how well they carry out the spirit of the oath to which each subscribes.

Owing to the fact that the barbecue will be served at a feast of the temple, the Shriners will not appear in evening dress, but in their ordinary habiliment. Every true believer will wear his red fez, so there will be no trouble in distinguishing them from the guests of the occasion.

Nobles E. S. McCandless and Jack Wilson, who will have charge of the refreshments, have taken a solemn oath that no one who attends the 'cue shall leave the grounds without first acknowledging that his appetite has been appeased. There will be plenty of camel's milk to drink, because, as is well known, the Shriners are not permitted to imbibe any other liquid.

After the 'cue the pavilion floor will be cleared and dancing will be indulged in. Chairman Ed Brown, of the committee on dancing, has had the floor of the pavilion planned and waxed for the occasion, while Wurm's orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music.

The edibles will be served at tables which will be in charge of Noble J. C. Brown, who has been selected to be a corps of waiters. There will be an abundance of good things to eat, and the occasion promises to be one of the most enjoyable of the season.

ALL OF THEM FAVOR CLARK.

But It Is Claimed Some Indorse Through Fear.

Raleigh, N. C., May 22.—(Special.)—Up to this time three counties have held democratic conventions and all three have indorsed Walter Clark for chief justice.

It is declared that very few lawyers favor Clark, but that some of them do not deny—at they are afraid to express their disapproval.

It is declared that the fight on Clark has been so managed as to give it the appearance of attack by certain corporations and that some people feared the success of the attack might make judges fearful for a long time to come of the corporations. It is said that this alone accounts for the fact that Clark's strength is so little shaken.

SHAW PLEASED WITH GEORGIA

Secretary of the Treasury Talks of Southern Industry.

PASSES THROUGH ON WAY TO TUSKEGEE

Evidence of Prosperity Are Everywhere To Be Seen Throughout This Section, Remarks Distinguished Visitor.

Secretary of the Treasury Shaw passed through Atlanta yesterday afternoon at 2:55 o'clock on his way to Montgomery, Ala., where he will join the congressional committee which passed through this city the first of the week.

In speaking of the south, Secretary Shaw stated that he had never before enjoyed a railroad journey more than he did that from Washington to Atlanta.

"Everywhere," said the secretary to a Constitution reporter yesterday afternoon, "the evidence of business prosperity has been so apparent that one could scarce fail to observe it."

"It is some several years since I last traveled through the south, and the changes in the business scene are so marked that I can scarcely realize the advance that has been made in this section. Where a few years ago the general aspect of affairs depended largely upon the north, today the south is entirely independent from a business standpoint, and is daily demonstrating the fact that it holds every element of prosperity."

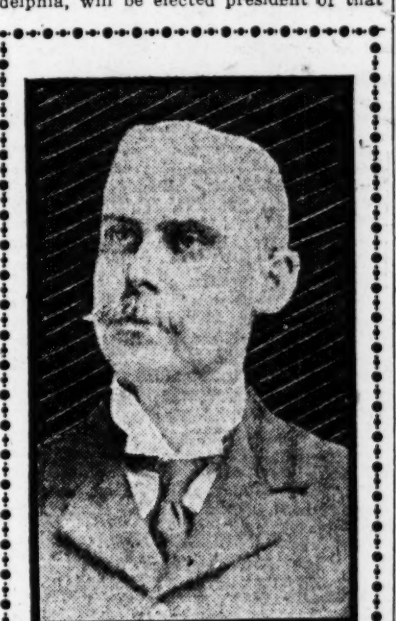

In passing through the country or a fast train one is scarcely given an opportunity to digest conditions, but at the same time one observes general conditions he can easily realize the prospect of a state. I have every reason to believe that Georgia has a bright future before it agriculturally. Of course, politically I can say nothing."

Secretary Shaw spent the few minutes allotted him in sitting in his car and looking out upon the city. His comments upon the effect that the city was far ahead of the depot and that he supposed it a matter of but a short time when the present condition of affairs would be altered.

The congressional committee which has been carrying on an investigation of conditions at Tuskegee will pass through Atlanta on its way north Monday afternoon.

INSURANCE NOTES.

It Is To Be President Chaplin. The assurance from Old Point Comfort, Va., where the Southeastern Tariff Association is now holding its annual meeting, that Southern Manager William E. Chaplin, of the Pennsylvania Fire and the Fire Association of Philadelphia, will be elected president of that body for the ensuing year was received in Atlanta yesterday with great pleasure by insurance men.

W. E. CHAPLIN, popular insurance business in Richmond, Va., who will be elected president of Southeastern Tariff Association today.

Mr. Chaplin began his experience in the insurance business in Richmond, Va., the city of his birth, with the general agency of Thomas W. Alford & Sons. A short time after he entered the office he was appointed special agent for the Washington Fire and Marine Insurance Company of Virginia.

When the late Clarence Knowles was organizing his staff for the general agency of the Germania in North Carolina, Mr. Chaplin to supervise the interests of the company in Virginia and North Carolina. When the Germania withdrew temporarily Mr. Chaplin remained with Mr. Knowles, becoming general auditor for his entire field.

Upon the death of Manager Knowles, Mr. Chaplin was made manager for the Pennsylvania Fire and Fire Association of Philadelphia, which position he has since held with great credit to himself and profit to his company.

Mr. Chaplin is very popular with insurance men generally. It is said that before this he would have been elected president of the association had not his modesty kept him from accepting the position.

Atlanta Home To Reduce Capital. At a meeting of the stockholders of the Atlanta Home, held Wednesday, a resolution calling for a reduction of the company's capital stock was passed.

It is understood that this reduction is to be from $500,000, the company's present capitalization, to $200,000. The object in taking this step will be to provide the company with a good working surplus.

All stockholders will be called upon to deposit their stock and a meeting will be held on June 10, at which the matter of the reduction will be finally settled.

This question has been before the Atlanta Home for some time. It has been given much attention in the insurance press and the company has not advised from all quarters to make the reduction.

President Stockell's address, delivered before the Southeastern Tariff Association at the annual meeting in Old Point yesterday, covered all features of the work of the association during the year past. The Atlanta rate question was given a good amount of attention. President Stockell again stated his opinion that the Atlanta people had no cause to complain as to fire insurance rates.

John T. Moody, general manager for Georgia for the National Life Insurance Company of Vermont, on yesterday concluded contracts with three large insurance writers to represent his company. James H. Couper, for the large insurance company of New York, and Sam B. Hunter, who has represented the Provident Savings Life for some time past, have all joined forces with the National, and will, it is doubt, do a big business for that company in this state during the remainder of this year, as these gentlemen are writers of ability.

BOARDS APPLY FOR MONEY.

Finance Committee Hears from Departments as to Needs for Remainder of Year.

The second open meeting of the city finance committee to hear from the city departments as to their needs was held yesterday. Representatives of the water board, police board and the park commissioners were heard from, and the committee adjourned to meet probably next Thursday evening in the mayor's office to prepare the June appropriation sheet.

Captain James W. English, chairman of the police board, submitted a detailed statement showing the amount of money desired by his department. He said thirty-five new bicycles were needed, $1,000 additional for expense money, $25 for the repair of boilers at the barracks, which had been damaged on account of the presence of a spring in the floor of the engine room, $500 for repairing and painting the roof of the headquarters building, which has not been painted for the past ten years, and $250 to erect a pound for animals caught on the streets and taken to the barracks. The aggregate increase asked by the board was $3,725.02.

Judge George Hillier, president of the water board, and Commissioner E. C. Peters, chairman of the finance committee of the board, called attention to the wants of the water works department. It was stated that one of the electric dynamos at the pumping station should either be repaired or exchanged for a new one. It was estimated that a new machine would cost about $2,400. The board also desired money with which to lay water mains already bought and now waiting to be put under ground.

Colonel W. T. Moyers, president of the board of park commissioners, stressed the need of funds with which to purchase attractions for the zoo. Colonel Moyers thought $120,000 could be expended so as to bring good returns. He invited the mayor and members of the committee to visit Grant park Sunday afternoon to see for themselves what had been done and what was needed.

Baltimore Horse Show.

ALBANY has become such a horse show center that such enterprises in any part of the country are of great interest here, while the prospective horse show of next year naturally inspires interest in what new features will be introduced.

The Baltimore horse show which closed Saturday night is described by the press as one of great beauty and completeness. There were all the usual features—the horses, the music, and last, but not least, the beautiful women in their stunner gowns.

A feature, however, in which the Baltimore horse show and others have excelled those of Atlanta is in the fact that a number of ladies have ridden their own horses to victory, one of the blue ribbons at the Baltimore horse show having been taken by Mrs. Charles Hurd, of Richmond, Va., who, until her marriage, the latter part of April, was Miss Marie Murchison, of New York, who has visited here as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Frank Ellis, Mrs. Hurd, camp rode her famous jumping horse "Hornpipe."

In reference to other ladies in the saddle The Baltimore American mentions: "The ladies' hunter class was unusually attractive. All the horses were ridden by ladies, and the class resulted in a superb display of horsemanship and womanly grace. Miss Nancy Lee rode Mrs. Edward A. Jackson's Sapphire to victory, and Mrs. A. B. Portman, of Warrenton, rode Mr. L. D. Fessenden, Jr.'s, Barmecide to the red ribbon. Mrs. J. R. Valentine, on Mountain Girl, was awarded third prize. The other riders were Mrs. Allen Potts, of Richmond, Va.; Mrs. C. Stewart Lee, Mrs. Charles Snowden, Mrs. Courtland H. Smith and Mrs. Anne McKim."

The costumes of the women are described as gorgeous, there being every material used. It would seem from many black lace gowns to white laces painted in roses, pink silks applied in lace, while in head gear it must have required one whole ostrich plume to furnish the single long plumes described as adorning the hats of "smart dames."

Building Committee.

MISS MILDRED RUTHERFORD, state representative of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, has called a meeting of the Winnie Davis memorial building committee in Athens, Ga., May 23.

Mrs. William Greene Rauld and Mrs. Dalton Mitchell are among the Atlanta members who will attend. The meeting will be a very important one, as the committee will take formal action upon the proposed contribution of the southern educational conference to the Winnie Davis memorial at the State Normal school.

Miss Avery's Card Party.

THE card party given yesterday afternoon by Miss Edna Avery at her home on Peachtree was one of the most enjoyable that has been given this season. The house was beautifully decorated in red roses, sweet peas and palms, and about fifty guests were present. Three lovely prizes, consisting of a stickpin of pearls and rubies, a cologne bottle of Tiffany glass and a lace fan were awarded the lucky winners. The score cards were ornamented with pen and ink sketches of women's heads and the score was kept by Miss Marie Scipio and Miss Bessie Moore.

At the conclusion of the game a dainty luncheon was served. Miss Avery received her guests in a dainty gown of white with elaborate trimmings in lace. She was assisted in receiving by her mother, Mrs. T. J. Avery, Mrs. George Scipio, Mrs. John Moore, Mrs. John Moore and Mrs. Vassar Wood.

Atlanta Chapter Meets.

THE Atlanta Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, held an important meeting in the Woman's Club rooms in the Grand yesterday afternoon.

In the absence of Miss Alice Baxter, president, Mrs. A. McD. Wilson, vice president, presided at the meeting.

Reports were made by officers present and several important announcements made.

Mrs. William Greene Rauld, chairman of the memorial committee, reported that $75 was made at the recent charity sale at Rich's.

According to a request recently made by Miss Rutherford, state president, that all funds for the Winnie Davis annex be turned over to her at once, Mrs. Rauld made a motion which was carried to the effect that as soon as possible the Atlanta chapter turn over to Miss Rutherford the amount of $500, realized at their recent entertainment, also the amount realized at the Rich sale.

A number of new names were proposed for membership and favorably acted upon. Announcement was made that the semi-annual meeting of the city federation will meet next Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Wilson urged attendance at the meeting and asked that the Daughters do their part towards entertaining the delegates to the state federation of clubs which will meet in Atlanta November 3.

THE BREAKFAST CUP

Can Bring Joy or Trouble.

Change in food and drink will sometimes make over even elderly people and restore them to natural health. A man of 70 writes that at the age of 60 he began to break down and was a partial invalid until 67, when he concluded that coffee was one of the prime causes of his sickness, and began using Postum Food Coffee in its place with Grape-Nuts Breakfast Food and some fruit at his meals.

He says: "Now at the age of 70 I am as strong and hearty as I was at 50. I would not go back to my old mode of living for a hundred thousand dollars."

This man was a pioneer in Illinois in 1837, later on was an early settler in North Dakota. He requests that his name shall not appear in print. Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

SHORT ITEMS CONCERNING MEN AND PUBLIC AFFAIRS

GOVERNOR Candler yesterday commuted to life imprisonment the sentence of Calvin Beach, of Dooly county, who was sentenced to be hanged for the murder of another man, Beach and another negro were indicted for the murder by the same grand jury, and under the evidence it was impossible that both should have committed the crime. Beach, however, was convicted and the indictment against the other man was not pressed. On account of the peculiar circumstances in the case the prison commission recommended commutation to life imprisonment, and this was approved by the governor yesterday.

GOVERNOR Candler yesterday increased the reward for the apprehension of Mose Reed, colored, from $10 to $250. Reed is wanted in Burke county for the murder of Clinton Mobley, white, twelve years ago. T. J. BUCHANAN, THE NE. CITY license inspector and city warden, who was appointed by Mayor Mims to fill the place of the late J. K. Hunter, took possession of his office at the city hall yesterday. It is now believed that the offices of city warden and license inspector will not be separated, but it is said that some of the duties will be taken off Mr. Buchanan's shoulders.

"Atlantic Beach," said Mr. Moore yesterday, "is one of the most popular resorts in Florida, although it is a new resort. The hotel is magnificently located and is easily reached. The season this year will open June 1, with a large crowd, and the indications are that the season will be most successful. One of the great features of the resort is the excellent surf bathing to be obtained. The hotel is large, and, being right on the coast, is cool and does not possess any disagreeable features. A number of Atlanta people will visit Atlantic Beach during the summer."

DUFFY ADDRESSES LOCAL CARPENTERS

Secretary-Treasurer of National Organization Arrived Yesterday.

HE WAS WARMLY RECEIVED

Will Attend Picnic To Be Given by Local Unions at Pearl Springs Tomorrow and Will Deliver a Speech Appropriate of the Occasion.

Frank Duffy, of Philadelphia, secretary-treasurer of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon and at 8 o'clock last evening addressed a large meeting of union and non-union carpenters and joiners at the hall, 2-12 South Broad street. Mr. Duffy, who is one of the best known and most popular officers of the organization, made an interesting talk and was warmly applauded.

He is in the south stirring up interest in the big convention of carpenters, which is to be held in Atlanta about the middle of September. It is expected that fully 90 delegates will attend this convention from all parts of the United States and Canada. The members of the local unions have raised a large sum of money to pay the expenses of receiving and entertaining the delegates and the meeting promises to be one of the largest ever held here.

Many of the railroads have announced their intention to give a low rate to Atlanta and as a consequence it is believed that a large number of carpenters and joiners who may not be delegates will come to the convention on account of the cheap railroad fare.

Mr. Duffy will spend several days in the city and tomorrow will be one of the guests of honor at the picnic to be given at Pearl Springs by the local unions of carpenters. A special train has been chartered for the occasion and will leave the union depot at an early hour tomorrow morning, returning about 6 in the evening. At the picnic grounds there will be a large number of sports for the entertainment of those who will attend.

At the close of the meeting last night it was announced that the local unions of carpenters and joiners will meet next Monday evening at the rooms on Broad street, to which every carpenter in Atlanta, whether union or non-union, will be invited. The district council met later in the evening to arrange the details for this meeting.

Clothing Values.

The value of a garment depends in a great measure upon the manner in which it is made and trimmed. This is one point upon which we lay great stress—not alone the visible parts, but the invisible.

The trimmings in a suit of clothes—the linings, interlinings, etc., make its real value.

Natty Suits, properly made, with the proper swing,

Henley and not the Memphis ball team was the drawing card at Piedmont yesterday, but before the game was over the visiting team and not Henley was the feature of the afternoon.

"Red" Ehret, the old National League pitcher, gave decided evidence of rejuvenation in yesterday's game.

visitors and throughout the nine innings his slow delivery completely puzzled the locals. They seemed to have the idea from the very beginning that Ehret was a tough proposition and even Winters, who has always managed to hit at will, could do nothing with him.

The fact that Henley was to pitch brought out many who would not otherwise have gone to the game, and when the Georgia boy stepped into the box he was given the same glad greeting which Atlanta spectators have been in the habit of according him.

Before the inning was completed there was hardly a person in the grand stand who did not feel sorry for Henley. His work was not up to the high standard he had set for himself. The first ball he sent over the plate was weak and mild. In it there was none of that force or strength his friends have always observed. Neither was there anything like the control he has been showing. It took just five balls from Henley's hand to first, and the second man up Henley was just as kind as to the first. Two wild pitches followed the two gifts and Gilligan scored, while Valdolo, the second man up, went to third. Then Lauson was given a base on balls and found second easily. Swacina went out to Hoffmeister, unassisted, making the first out of the game. Gleason found a single and Valdolo scored. It was two runs for Memphis when Williams, the next man up, went out.

Neither of those runs were earned. Neither would in all probability have been made had Henley not been so liberal in giving bases on balls.

Frank was sick and Leighton was placed in left. Ehret found no trouble in striking Leighton out. Then Winters few out and it remained for Leidy to make Atlanta's first hit, but it brought no good results, as Stouch flew out.

Baker in the Box.

For four innings Henley tried the stab and then had to come out. Baker taking his place, Baker went into the game like he had been pitching from the start and for five innings held the visitors down to two hits, both of them being made in the eighth, when Memphis added a run.

The Atlanta played faster ball than the Memphis at nearly every stage of the game, but for some reason the good work was not productive of results. Busch at short did the best, quickest, fastest work yet shown at that position this season. He went for everything that came his way and was instrumental in some of the fastest plays seen on the ground this season.

Henley was notified Wednesday afternoon that he would be expected to pitch yesterday, still he was in no condition for his work yesterday afternoon.

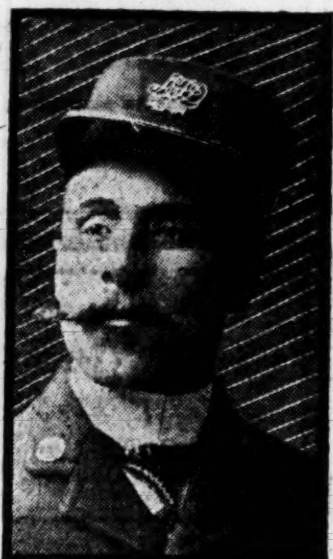

The score was:

ATLANTA	ab	r	h	po	a	e
Leighton, rf.	0	0	0	0	0	0

Clarity and Anderson, who have been holding last place in class A, of the firemen's handball tournament, yesterday surprised a big crowd at No. 1 court by defeating Setze and McWaters in a fast and well-played game, the score being 5 to 4.

This leaves only one team in the tournament with a blank percentage. This team is composed of Ivy and Smith, and as they have just entered and have only played two games they have hardly had a chance to show what they can do.

A number of games will be played today and tomorrow another good string will be pulled off, so before the week is over a general shake-up in the different classes may be brought about. Since the opening of the tournament there have been several changes and it is expected that there will be a great deal, a clinch on the pennant cannot be claimed by any of the teams.

Results at Worth.

New York, May 22.—August Belmont's Masterman, making his first appearance of the year, easily won the thirty-sixth Belmont stakes at Morris park today. Five of the best 3-year-olds in training faced the starter for the event, which was at 1 mile and 3 furlongs over the hill. King Hanover, Compute and Masterman were all well played, King Hanover closing favorite at 2 to 1, with Compute second choice and Masterman third in demand, while the others went bagging. Masterman won very easily by three lengths. King Hanover made a game effort to hold second place, but Ranold came with a great burst of speed and beat out the favorite by five lengths by the end of the race. Compute broke down in the stretch and finished last. August Belmont also scored another easy win with his 3-year-old Mizzen in the Eclipse stakes. Mizzen made the running for a furlong, then Dalesman went to the front and led to the dip, where Bullman on Mizzen let him out and won in a gallop by three lengths.

Advance Guard, carrying 122 pounds, won the jockey club weight for age race from the favorite, Heno, by a neck. Heno was disqualified for foul and second place was given to Dixie Line, making Heno a two-race winner.

St. Louis, May 22.—Maximus created a decided sensation at the fair grounds today by nipping the fifth event at one mile and twenty yards from Lady Strathmore by a nose in the phenomenal time of 1:40 3/4, lowering the track record two and one-quarter seconds. Three favorites, Valond choices and one long shot—Maximus—were successful.

GEORGIA SAW MILL MEN MEET.
Officers Are Elected in Tifton for Ensuing Year.

Tifton, Ga., May 22.—(Special).—The Georgia Saw Mill Association met in session here yesterday afternoon at 3:30, with a good attendance of members from three states.

Lumber men discussed the water supply of some of the smaller mills, and it was found that many were not running on full time on this account.

Negro labor was discussed and was reported by the majority of the lumber men as being very scarce. Wages are good and the scarcity of labor is attributed to the hot weather.

After timely discussions from representatives from the numerous mills in this and other states the following officers were elected for another year:

H. H. Tift, Tifton, Ga., president; R. H. Fowl, Watertown, Fla., vice president for Florida; W. B. Stillwell, Savannah, Ga., vice president for Georgia; D. T. McKelthan, Lumber, S. C., vice president for South Carolina; J. J. L. Phillips, Tifton, Ga., treasurer; E. C. Harrell, Tifton, Ga., secretary.

It was discussed and considered advisable to elect a vice president from each state.

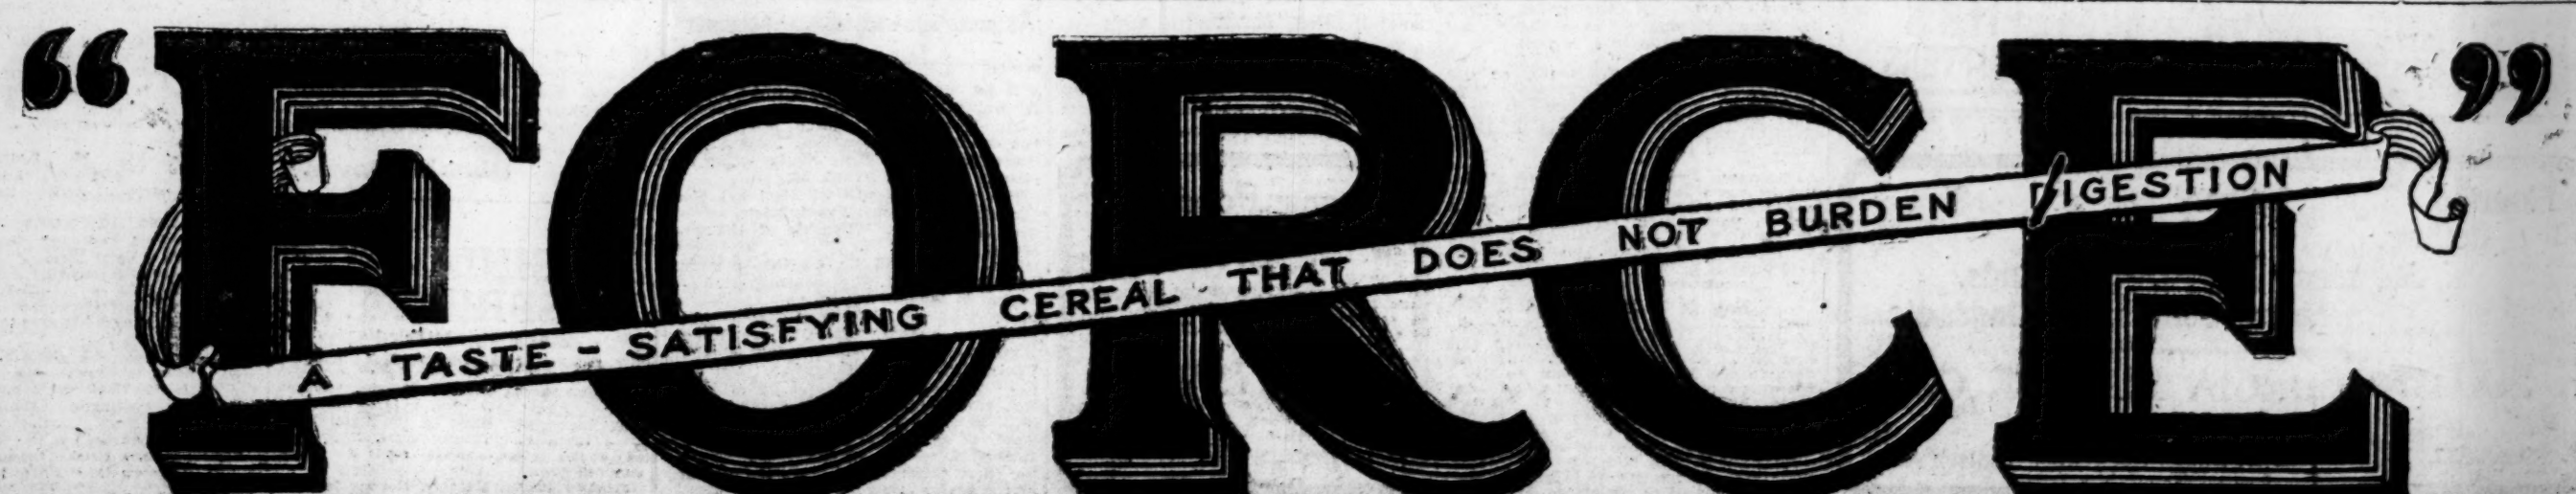

The meeting was an enthusiastic one,

To Name Oyster Commission.

Jackson, Miss., May 22.—(Special).—Within the next few days Governor Longjohn will be called upon to appoint the oyster commission created at the last session of the legislature, and it is understood that there will be a host of applicants for the places. The commission, after organization is perfected, will elect a corps of inspectors to see that the recently adopted oyster laws are not violated. The measure is quite lengthy, and while objectionable in many parts, will probably become in the course of time a source of revenue to the state, the profits accruing from its operation being used in the propagation and preservation of oyster beds.

New Statesman in Washington.

Washington, May 22.—(Special).—Morton Bartow Mercer, Jr., is the name of a little stranger who arrived on May 18 to brighten the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morton Bartow Mercer, of Washington, D. C. Their many Atlanta friends will be pleased to know of their new happiness. Mr. Mercer and his wife will visit Atlanta some time during the summer.

The fund being raised for the relief of the families of the officers murdered last Saturday in the Pittsburgh riot was swelled yesterday by a large number of subscriptions.

The fund has now reached $1,129.25. Chief of Police John W. Ball yesterday received subscriptions amounting to $135, including 45 contributions.

The citizens are responding generously to the call for relief, and it is probable that the amount realized for the fund will be greater than the amount needed for the relief of the families of the officers.

Benefit at the Grand.

Chief Ball stated last night that he feels gratified at the liberal manner in which the people have responded to the call for relief, and that he appreciates deeply the sentiment around him. He says he regards the rapidly increasing fund as a tribute to the worth of the dead officers.

The Bijou Musical Comedy Company, now playing at the Grand, has generously offered to aid the fund, and to this end will give one-half of the proceeds of a special matinee arranged for next Thursday afternoon. Chief Ball has been formally notified of this action.

It is expected that the house will be filled to its capacity at this performance, and that the amount realized for the fund will reach a handsome figure. Minister Wu will speak at the Grand Thursday night, and on this account no performance will be given at that time. In addition to witnessing a good show the citizens of Atlanta will have an opportunity to aid a worthy cause.

FINED HIM FOR PROFANITY.

Recorder in Grant Case Upholds the Right of Free Speech.

George W. Grant, Jr., the young white man charged with cursing Police Chief Ball and Sheriff Nelms and making derogatory remarks in reference to the police, was yesterday afternoon fined $10 by Recorder Nash Broyles.

Judge Broyles held that Grant had a right to criticize any acts of any official, provided he did so in an orderly manner, but that he had no right to use profane language, which he had done in the case of the police. He was represented by Attorney Robert Lee Avery and Policeman Phillips, who made the case, was represented by Assistant City Attorney W. F. Hill. Grant was arrested in a restaurant on Decatur street Tuesday afternoon. Attorney Hill made a few remarks for the city and was followed by Attorney Avery for the defendant. He argued that Grant should not be fined, as his conversation would be a blow at free speech.

"I agree with the contention in this case that the defendant had the right to criticize the action of any official, be he the chief of police, chief of the fire department or recorder. I have always upheld the right of free speech. But the evidence in this case shows that this man not only criticized the officials, but also used profane language. I do not enter a fine for the criticism of officers, but for the profane language."

Boy Is Badly Injured.
Tommy Whitlow, a young boy living at Whitehall, was badly injured this morning at the factory there. A girl at work in the factory asked him to slip a belt over a pulley for her and he started to do so he was caught by the belt and thrown over the shafting at the top of the house. His left arm was broken in three places, his hands lacerated and several ribs bruised. His injuries are not serious, are quite painful, and his left arm will be somewhat deformed.

RAILWAY NOTES.

The West Point Route.

Since the Atlanta and West Point and the Western of Alabama discarded the old Wade mark, "The Atlanta and New Orleans Short Line," and adopted the shorter one, "The West Point Route," the officials of these two roads have exerted every effort to make the public familiar with the new route name.

President Wickham is having "The West Point Route" painted on all the coaches as they are sent to the shops, while the initials of the line to which they belong are being painted on the ends of the cars. This will give uniformity in appearance to the trains, while heretofore half of nearly every train was Atlanta and West Point and the other half Western of Alabama. It is understood that this change will also be made on the locomotives and freight equipment.

All advertising matter now issued by the two roads bears the new name, and it is always given a conspicuous place. A new blotter has just been gotten out, and Traveling Passenger Agent George W. Allen, in order to give them wide distribution, has announced his intention to give one to every school child in Atlanta.

Commission Meets Today.

There will be a meeting of the Georgia railroad commission today, at which the question of switching charges will be given final disposition. The question of the division of freight rates on through shipments where two or more carriers are concerned will also come up. Among those attending the meeting will be the officials of the city yesterday for the purpose of attending the meeting were Traffic Manager W. A. Winburn, of the Central of Georgia; General Freight Agent James McInnis, of the plant system, and General Freight and Passenger Agent A. G. Jackson, of the Georgia railroad. A conference was held by the officials yesterday afternoon in reference to the switching charges matter.

Spikes and Cinders.

Chairman Joseph Richardson, of the Southern Railway Association, announces that excursion rates have been arranged on the railroad plan for delegates and members attending the following meetings: Commencement exercises Wesleyan Female college, Macon, Ga., May 23 to 25; Knights of Columbus, Atlanta, Ga., May 25; Georgia State Dental Society, Macon, Ga., June 10 to 13; Southern district Sunday school convention, St. Mary Baptist church, Macon, Ga., June 15 to 16; Greek Catholic Union, Johnston, Pa., June 16 to 21; general missionary Baptist and educational convention of Georgia, Macon, Ga., June 18 to 22.

The next meeting of the conference committee of the Southern Railway Association will be held in Memphis at the new Gayoso hotel, which has just been completed. The meeting will occur later than the regular date, but for several reasons the change was made from the third to the fourth Tuesday for this meeting. This will be the first time that the committee has met in Memphis for a long time.

F. J. Parmalee has been appointed traveling passenger agent for the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton, succeeding Ed J. Walker, who resigned some time ago to become Florida passenger agent for the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis, with headquarters in Jacksonville. Mr. Parmalee has formerly been located at Dalton. He will have headquarters at 18 North Pryor street.

Colonel B. W. Wrenn, passenger traffic manager for the plant system, left Wednesday at noon for New York.

General Passenger Agent George H. Smith, of the Northern and Southern, returned to New Orleans yesterday afternoon.

A large party of Atlanta ladies will accompany Yaarab temple of the Mystic Shrine when they leave for the trip to the Pacific slope on June 1. Potentate Adair has issued a special excursion ticket inviting ladies to accompany the Shrine on the trip, which will be a most enjoyable one.

Colonel Watkins, of Watkins & Thompson, attorneys for the Central of Georgia in Chattanooga, was in the city Wednesday.

A large party will leave Macon on a special train over the Southern on June 15 for Knoxville, where they will attend the summer school of the south, which will be in session from June 15 to July 1. President P. P. Pollock and Professor W. H. Kilpatrick, of Mercer university, will head the party.

"In Seaside Colorado, and Through the Rockies," is the title of a handsome folder issued by the Burlington. It contains a number of artistic illustrations.

The Merchants and Miners' Transportation Company has issued a booklet entitled "Summer Through the Rockies," descriptive of the various steamer excursions which have been arranged for the summer by that line.

General Manager C. H. Ackert, of the Southern, left yesterday afternoon for Montgomery over the Atlanta and West Point in his private car. He will inspect the Southern's lines in lower Alabama.

Beginning Sunday, the Southern's train No. 40, to Washington, which has formerly left at 12:30 p. m., will now leave at 1:00 p. m. The train will leave at 1:00 p. m. and will arrive at Washington at 10:00 a. m.

The Georgia railroad is making arrangements for handling a large crowd to Charleston on account of Negro Military day, which will be held June 28. A special train will leave Atlanta Sunday afternoon at 3:10 o'clock. The Fulton Guards will go en masse, and will be accompanied by a large following of admirers.

General Agent J. F. Van Rensselaer and Traveling Passenger Agent R. O. Bean, of the Southern Pacific-Norfolk, left last night for a short visit to Savannah.

P. S. Hay, of Montgomery, southeastern passenger agent for the Mobile and Ohio, was in the city yesterday.

Frank Green, of Greenville, Miss., traveling passenger agent for the Yazoo, was in Atlanta yesterday.

General Agent S. E. Magill, of the Georgia railroad, has returned from Charleston, where he attended the annual meeting of the representatives of the road. He was the only Atlanta official in attendance.

Chairman Joseph Richardson, of the Southern Railway Association, announces a rate of one fare for the round trip to Boston from all points in association territory for the annual meeting of Christian Scientists, which will be held June 15 to 18.

IN THE COURTS.

Plaintiff Won Case.

The jury in the case of Fugazzi, Lovell & Co. against P. Palmisano, which was on trial before Judge Lumpkin in the superior court, rendered a decision for the plaintiff yesterday afternoon. The verdict was in the nature of a number of answers to questions showing the status of the defendant in the case. Moore & Pomeroy, W. H. Terrell and Lee J. Langley were the attorneys interested in the case.

Large Mortgage Filed.

A mortgage to secure the payment of $75,000 from the East Atlanta Land Company to G. W. Woodruff, of Muscogee county, was filed yesterday in the office of the clerk of the superior court. The land mortgaged is valuable property on the Equitable building, the greater part of which was the site of the stables of the Consolidated Street Railway Company.

Ordinary To Decide.

The ordinary court was occupied yesterday afternoon with the hearing of the objections of Hattie Hall and Mamie Norwood to the application of Corrie Miller, widow of Frank Miller, for a judgment of divorce. The parties interested are negroes. The widow filed a demurrer to the caveat, claiming that, as the objections raised the question of title to certain property, the court of ordinary could have no jurisdiction of the matter. Judge Wilkinson took the matter under advisement and will render a decision as to the demurrer this morning at 10 o'clock.

Wants Partner Enjoined.

In the superior court yesterday afternoon, after his attorney, William M. Everett, filed injunction proceedings against Joseph P. Long in an effort to have the defendant enjoined from further acting under authority of a contract entered into between the parties last January for the purpose of selling land owned by Hill in DeKalb county. The plaintiff alleged that the defendant had violated the contract by giving a satisfactory accounting of negotiations made, and also charged that Long had by certain acts damaged his property to considerable extent. Judge Lumpkin issued a restraining order and set May 31 as a day for a hearing of the case.

Case Was Dismissed.

Judge Reid, in the first division of the city court, handed down a decision yesterday in the case of E. Erlich against Bartram & Shomo, a murder filed by the defendants and dismissed the case. Erlich had brought suit against the defendants in the sum of $2,500, claiming that they employed him for a year and that they discharged him before the year expired.

The case will probably be appealed by Messrs. Horton & Horton, the plaintiff's attorneys. Bartram & Shomo.

A Washington St. Home.

A nine-room house on Washington street, just beyond Ormond, built for a home last year, can be bought for $3,750.

This house cost $3,000, and is a beauty. The lot is 50 by 175 east front and cheap at $1,500. The place could not be duplicated for less than $4,500; but an emergency enables us to offer the property at $3,750. It is a serious mistake to overlook such bargains as this.
